

TWENTY-FIVE AMERICANS ON TORPEDOED STEAMER

FEARED SOME LOST LIVES IN DISASTER

SEVERAL AMERICANS INJURED AND POSSIBLY ONE OR TWO KILLED ON CHANNEL BOAT.

SURVIVORS ARE LANDED

Majority of Passengers Were Landed at Boulogne and Remainder at Dover—American Gives Account of Explosion.

London, March 25.—Twenty-five Americans were on board the cross channel steamer Sussex, which met with disaster from mine or submarine yesterday afternoon. Two Americans are known to have been injured seriously by explosion. They are, Miss Elizabeth Baldwin, daughter of Prof. J. Mark Baldwin, a resident of Paris, and Wilder G. Penfield of Hudson, Wis., a scholar at Oxford university.

AMERICAN GIVES ACCOUNT

Edward Huxley, who witnessed the catastrophe from beginning to end, gave several passengers and a number of the crew undoubtedly were blown to atoms by the explosion. Mr. Huxley told the Associated Press a remarkable story of the manner in which the forward part of the vessel was torn off at the captain's bridge. The remainder of the vessel was so little damaged that even the electric lights continued to burn.

The scene on the Sussex after the explosion was terrible. Mr. Huxley said. He would venture no opinion whether the disaster was caused by a mine or torpedo.

Conditions imposed by war conditions on communication with English and cross channel ports have made it impossible thus far to obtain accurate information regarding the circumstances of the disaster, and names and nationalities of passengers. Most of the passengers are believed to have been continental. There were 270 men, women and children on the vessel.

Passengers Leap Overboard

Good discipline was maintained although some scrambling for boats. A number of the passengers jumped overboard. Gratings and pieces of furniture were thrown to them from the deck. More than half of those who leaped into the water are believed to have lost their lives. The forecasts and wireless apparatus were blown away by the explosions. The wireless attempted to right a substitute.

Persons who embarked in the boats returned to the Sussex before dark. Rockers were fired during the early part of night and at about midnight a trawler came to the rescue. It took as many as it could carry to Boulogne.

A British destroyer came up soon after dark and took on the other passengers, conveying them to Dover. Five boats were left on the Sussex.

Passengers then set about giving first aid to injured and hoping to get to shore. Many persons were buried in debris near the bow. Seven persons, all terribly injured, were dug from wreckage, and several badly mangled bodies were found. Undoubtedly other persons were torn to pieces. I will not dwell on the horror. Suffice it to say that it was the most awful thing I ever witnessed.

Certain of Casualties

London, March 25.—The cross channel steamer Sussex, which was seriously damaged yesterday near Dover, France coast, was towed into Boulogne early today, according to a dispatch to the Central News.

Information received at Dover states that new reports are certain, some lives were lost on the vessel, probably by the explosion which caused the damage to her. A few of the rescued persons have been brought to Dover, but the majority of those taken off the steamer will be landed in France.

According to official information from the admiralty this morning, between thirty and one hundred passengers of the Sussex have been landed at Dover, and about 250 passengers and members of the crew in France.

Last night's dispatch says there were 250 passengers on the Sussex and a crew of about 50, indicating that more persons on the Sussex have not been accounted for.

The London, Brighton and South Coast railway shows the passenger list of the Sussex aboard. Miss Baldwin, daughter of prominent American resident of Paris, was injured seriously on the Sussex.

Belief Americans Lost. Edward Huxley, president of the United States Rubber Export company, of Francis E. Drake, European manager of the company, are among the Americans reported. They report a heavy loss of lives, including probably several Americans.

Miss Baldwin's father and mother were on board the vessel. All were taken to Boulogne in addition to other injuries, Miss Baldwin's leg was broken.

Miss Alice Ruiz of Colorado, and Wilder G. Penfield of Merton College, Oxford, are other Americans who were saved.

Hits Insurance Market. Recurrence of submarine activity is causing increasing worry among ship-owners and insurers, although the insurance market was held steady since the fixing of the government rate of one per cent, which has not been raised. Most Atlantic voyages are assured by the United States government, but the East Coast and North Sea insurance is increasingly difficult to obtain. Mediterranean voyages are still very stiff.

Per cent. The fact that most of the announcements have been to the effect of boats which have been torpedoed, adds to the uncertainty of the market.

The chief engineer of the Sussex

NEW SUBSEA WAR CRISIS STIRS U. S.

was killed by the explosion and was seriously wounded.

On American Missing. An American, whose name is not known to survivors, who have reached London, was talking with the Baldwin family close to the captain's bridge when the explosion occurred. He had not been seen since then and is supposed to have been lost.

The explosion occurred about 3 p. m. when the Sussex was one and a half hours out of Folkestone. The wireless apparatus was destroyed and no help arrived until nearly midnight. Had it not been for the watertight compartments, the Sussex would have sunk and the loss of life would have been heavier.

American Saw Torpedo. Paris, March 25.—Samuel F. Benis, Medford, Mass., a passenger on the Sussex, said today that he saw plainly and unmistakably the wake of torpedo coming toward the steamer.

Sink German Raider. London, March 25.—German raider has been sunk in the North Sea. Five German officers and 115 men of a total of 300 were captured. The British lost 74 men. The British merchantman, Altmark, which was sunk by the German raider, the Greis, was herself sunk.

Claim Sussex Torpedoed. Paris, March 25.—The French official statement says the past night was quiet in the Verdon region both east and west of the Meuse. Artillery duels were in progress in the Woerthe region.

London, March 25.—Newspapers of Petrograd, according to a Reuters dispatch from that city, have published a report that preparations are being made for the arrival of Emperor William in the near future, at Vilna, where he is to supervise the direction of the course of operations.

Detectives from Berlin, it is added, have already reached the city to clear it of suspicious characters.

Activity in Macedonia. Berlin, March 24, via London.—The Berliner Tageblatt's Macedonian correspondent says French forces from the entrenched camp at Saloniki have been showing activity in the neighborhood of Gjevevli on Serbian Greek frontier, where they fired ten shots from heavy guns against German Austrian pioneers, who were repairing bridges. The shots did no damage. The French also carried out a bombardment in the vicinity of Dobran.

Number of small skirmishes between patrol parties taken place, the correspondent adds.

STUDENT VOTE CASE DUE FOR DECISION

Madison University Student Start Suit Because Vote Is Denied Them.

Madison, March 25.—Student voting in municipal elections is due for immediate settlement.

Four students who were turned out by election commissioners at the primaries last Tuesday, brought damage suits against the election commission. The suits were brought to the supreme court as soon as possible.

The four students representing different classes of university voters in the election, are: Ralph L. Widdowson, R. Thomas, Ky., Alfred Aschbar, Frank Siebot and John W. Gross, who registered from Madison, represented by the law firm of Sanborn and Blake.

The four men whose names are mentioned here are being interested in the matter, but are receiving financial backing elsewhere," said Canby Blake, attorney for the plaintiffs.

The defense will be represented by Ralph L. Widdowson, a resident in this case will affect all other college towns like Appleton, Racine, Beloit and all normal schools of the state, where students attempt to vote in municipal elections.

WAITE STILL FEELS INFLUENCE OF DRUG

Dentist Accused of Poisoning Millionaire Peck Suffers From Effects of Narcotic.

New York, March 25.—Still suffering from the effects of a narcotic drug which he began to take when his trouble overwhelmed him, Dr. Arthur Warren Waite spent a restless night under close guard in the prison ward at the Bellevue hospital. By Monday from the grand jury an indictment charging the young dentist with first degree murder in administering the arsenic which caused the death of his father-in-law, John E. Peck, a Grand Rapids millionaire.

Waite was cheered today by prospects of seeing his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Warren W. Waite, who came last night from their home in Grand Rapids.

"Our son never committed this awful crime of which they charge him," said Mr. Waite. "Give him a chance and we feel certain it will be cleared up."

WOULD REPRESENT INDIANA IN SENATE

James E. Watson, former congressman from Indiana, aspires to represent his state in the United States senate, and since the recent death of Senator Shively it is conceded that his chances of being nominated by the Republicans are good.

James E. Watson, former congressman from Indiana, aspires to represent his state in the United States senate, and since the recent death of Senator Shively it is conceded that his chances of being nominated by the Republicans are good.

VERDUN IN FLAMES SAYS AN OFFICIAL GERMAN STATEMENT

Set on Fire by German Shells, According to Announcement—Other War News.

Berlin, via London, March 25.—Verdun is in flames, according to today's statement by German army headquarters.

Kaiser to Vilna. No Activity at Verdun.

Paris, March 25.—The French official statement says the past night was quiet in the Verdon region both east and west of the Meuse. Artillery duels were in progress in the Woerthe region.

London, March 25.—Newspapers of Petrograd, according to a Reuters dispatch from that city, have published a report that preparations are being made for the arrival of Emperor William in the near future, at Vilna, where he is to supervise the direction of the course of operations.

Detectives from Berlin, it is added, have already reached the city to clear it of suspicious characters.

Activity in Macedonia. Berlin, March 24, via London.—The Berliner Tageblatt's Macedonian correspondent says French forces from the entrenched camp at Saloniki have been showing activity in the neighborhood of Gjevevli on Serbian Greek frontier, where they fired ten shots from heavy guns against German Austrian pioneers, who were repairing bridges. The shots did no damage. The French also carried out a bombardment in the vicinity of Dobran.

Number of small skirmishes between patrol parties taken place, the correspondent adds.

MISS FOUR AMERICANS

British Steamer Englishman Goes Down on Outward Voyage—Fear Americans Were Killed.

Washington, March 25.—Destruction of the British steamer Englishman with the possible loss of American lives, and explosion on the channel line Sussex, carrying American passengers coming home, has caused concern in America and the sinking of the Tubantia, have served to unsettle the submarine situation again, and raise possibilities of more complications with central powers.

American Consular Agent Armstrong's preliminary report received today from Bristol that the Englishman was torpedoed and that four Americans were missing from the rescued presented the most serious aspect of the situation. The facts that the missing Americans were workers on a horse ship and not passengers on the Englishman in the case, the circumstances are accentuated by the fact that the ship was bound away from Europe and carried no contraband.

The explosion on the Sussex, variously reported as having been caused by a mine and a torpedo, also will be investigated before the United States determines whether it is concerned.

AT LAST LA FOLLETTE TALKS ABOUT NATION

Evidently "Bob" Decides It's Time to Switch from State to His National Politics.

London, March 25.—Further details of the address before the Reichstag of Dr. Karl Helfferich, secretary to the imperial treasury, in announcing the new loan, were given by the London Times. He is quoted by the London Times as follows:

"The meaning of the war for another half year is assured. Germany is the only belligerent power which has covered the total war expenditures by long term loans. That is a national policy in the present war, and from the outer world by arbitrary law in conflict with international law, should have borne for twenty months the heavy burdens of war, and should now begin to be free from the burden of the war."

He came out unequivocally for government manufacture of war munitions. Regarding preparedness, he said that there is a false scare in the land, but favored some increase in defense, but favored some increase in defense, but favored some increase in defense.

THIRTY-SIX THOUSAND PROSECUTED FOR SMUGGLING GOODS INTO GERMAN STATES

The Hague, March 25.—The Dutch minister of war, reporting in the second chamber of the Dutch parliament, says that 36,679 persons were prosecuted for smuggling goods into Germany last year. Forty thousand soldiers were employed to prevent smuggling, but because of the 100 miles of frontier they had to patrol, many of the smugglers were able to do a brisk business with the people across the border.

The strip of country along the various frontiers is now declared in a state of siege and the military commanders order the whole life of the community. They have no regard for some regions to banishing all undesirable persons. The number thus deprived of their right of residence last year is 1,297.

Abolition of recently limits supplied for the border towns to quantities that were normal before the war. The authorities carry out the anti-smuggling laws in a most drastic way, realizing that the traffic is endangering the country's overseas supply by awakening the distrust of the Allies.

ANGLO-JAPANESE TREATY WILL REMAIN UNCHANGED

Tokio, March 25.—The foreign office declares that rumors concerning a revision of Anglo-Japanese alliance are baseless. Japan and Great Britain have reached an amicable understanding concerning patrols in the Pacific for inspection of ships.

BAD STORM TAKES LIVES; TRACKS OUT

SOUTHEASTERN PORTION OF STATE SUFFERING WITH HIGH WATERS OF TERRIBLE NIGHT STORM.

Men and Team of Horses Drowned Near Mineral Point—Gratiot, Darlington Flooded.

The Wisconsin Telephone company this afternoon through messages furnished the Janesville officials by repair crews sent west to repair lines damaged by Wednesday's storm, reported extensive flood conditions at Mineral Point, Darlington, Gratiot, and the country surrounding.

In a message this afternoon it was learned here that two men and a team of horses were drowned when they attempted to ford the swollen Pecatonica river near Mineral Point after the flood waters had carried away a bridge. The men were reported to be from either Dodgeville or that vicinity.

At Darlington rowboats are necessary to travel in the business district and the Milwaukee road depot platform is said to be under three feet of water. The station at the bottom of a depression but a block from the river bank. In its near vicinity are several mercantile establishments, the hotel and other stores. The railroad yards there are also said to be completely submerged.

Gratiot, reported this morning to be in danger of flood loss, this afternoon was visited by a heavy rain, most as deep as that which wrought havoc during the heavy rains last fall. The Milwaukee road for a long distance was submerged in this vicinity.

The telephone crews reported themselves as wholly unable to do any work due to the high water covering roads and highways in the country and the danger of low walks or to move from the towns where they were quartered.

It was not though probable that any material relief over the height reached and now subsiding, the experienced either at Mineral Point, Darlington or Gratiot.

Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway officials this afternoon reported that heavy rain was falling between Gratiot and Mineral Point.

It appears that aside from experiencing the water due to the melting of the snow, the southwestern part of the state was visited by the worst rain storms in years. It fell in torrents for hours unceasingly, swelling rivers far above normal flood heights and taking out bridges in some instances. Low mounds of water were merged to at least three feet in some places and many families have been forced to remove to higher ground.

Streets, walks and crossings in the city today and yesterday were the scene of a desperate struggle with the presence of the melted snow. The trouble was more pronounced on the sidewalks in the residential sections of the city where terraces discharged the water into the streets.

What both Fifth and First ward residents regard as intolerable conditions exist at the Chicago and Northwestern and the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul crossings at both the Five Points and Academy street crossings. For the entire winter and even further back during season of heavy rain these crossings have been the scene of those who cross them daily on their way to work and business. Although no official complaint has been lodged lately with the city nor with the railway, the practice of stopping the trains under conditions will foster strong demands for an elimination of water and mud covered crossings on both interurban and city lines.

Conditions at the Five Points are regarded as the worst, both for vehicles and pedestrians. Toward the west side of the crossing the spaces between the tracks are always under water, the drains are clogged and even the slightest rain draws the water here. In the roadway mud at the present time is at least four inches deep.

Crossings at Academy street are correspondingly low. Today and yesterday the tracks were so high that the practice of stopping the trains blocked the west crossing, making it necessary for walkers to go almost to the top of the first and through deep mud and water to get either to or from the depot. Such conditions will soon bring a big protest, it is predicted by residents of either ward.

Water, reported to be of a depth of five feet by depot employees here, covered the Milwaukee road tracks near Gratiot on the Mineral Point division, and from other stations west of Gratiot were unable to make the trip during the morning. It was not known when the train would be started.

FIRE AT GRAND RAPIDS RAZES FURNITURE FACTORY

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 25.—Fire of unknown origin today caused a loss estimated at $100,000 to the factory of the Griswell Furniture company.

OWEN TAKES STUMP FOR LA FOLLETTE DELEGATES

Madison, Wis., March 25.—Attorney General Owen has taken the stump in behalf of the La Follette delegates to the national convention. Owen speaks at Weyauwega tonight and at Mosinee on Monday evening.

PROMINENT FIGURES IN HUNT FOR VILLA

Bandit Leader Reported to Have Escaped to Western San Miguel Country, Evading His Pursuers.

Col. Edwin St. John Greble.

He is now in command of the Sixth field artillery, a part of the force guarding Douglas, Arizona, one of the towns for which apprehension is felt because of the threatening attitude of the Mexicans just across the international boundary line.

TWO DIE IN STREAM

Men and Team of Horses Drowned Near Mineral Point—Gratiot, Darlington Flooded.

The Wisconsin Telephone company this afternoon through messages furnished the Janesville officials by repair crews sent west to repair lines damaged by Wednesday's storm, reported extensive flood conditions at Mineral Point, Darlington, Gratiot, and the country surrounding.

In a message this afternoon it was learned here that two men and a team of horses were drowned when they attempted to ford the swollen Pecatonica river near Mineral Point after the flood waters had carried away a bridge. The men were reported to be from either Dodgeville or that vicinity.

At Darlington rowboats are necessary to travel in the business district and the Milwaukee road depot platform is said to be under three feet of water. The station at the bottom of a depression but a block from the river bank. In its near vicinity are several mercantile establishments, the hotel and other stores. The railroad yards there are also said to be completely submerged.

Gratiot, reported this morning to be in danger of flood loss, this afternoon was visited by a heavy rain, most as deep as that which wrought havoc during the heavy rains last fall. The Milwaukee road for a long distance was submerged in this vicinity.

The telephone crews reported themselves as wholly unable to do any work due to the high water covering roads and highways in the country and the danger of low walks or to move from the towns where they were quartered.

It was not though probable that any material relief over the height reached and now subsiding, the experienced either at Mineral Point, Darlington or Gratiot.

Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway officials this afternoon reported that heavy rain was falling between Gratiot and Mineral Point.

It appears that aside from experiencing the water due to the melting of the snow, the southwestern part of the state was visited by the worst rain storms in years. It fell in torrents for hours unceasingly, swelling rivers far above normal flood heights and taking out bridges in some instances. Low mounds of water were merged to at least three feet in some places and many families have been forced to remove to higher ground.

Streets, walks and crossings in the city today and yesterday were the scene of a desperate struggle with the presence of the melted snow. The trouble was more pronounced on the sidewalks in the residential sections of the city where terraces discharged the water into the streets.

What both Fifth and First ward residents regard as intolerable conditions exist at the Chicago and Northwestern and the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul crossings at both the Five Points and Academy street crossings. For the entire winter and even further back during season of heavy rain these crossings have been the scene of those who cross them daily on their way to work and business. Although no official complaint has been lodged lately with the city nor with the railway, the practice of stopping the trains under conditions will foster strong demands for an elimination of water and mud covered crossings on both interurban and city lines.

Conditions at the Five Points are regarded as the worst, both for vehicles and pedestrians. Toward the west side of the crossing the spaces between the tracks are always under water, the drains are clogged and even the slightest rain draws the water here. In the roadway mud at the present time is at least four inches deep.

Crossings at Academy street are correspondingly low. Today and yesterday the tracks were so high that the practice of stopping the trains blocked the west crossing, making it necessary for walkers to go almost to the top of the first and through deep mud and water to get either to or from the depot. Such conditions will soon bring a big protest, it is predicted by residents of either ward.

Water, reported to be of a depth of five feet by depot employees here, covered the Milwaukee road tracks near Gratiot on the Mineral Point division, and from other stations west of Gratiot were unable to make the trip during the morning. It was not known when the train would be started.

CLAIM VILLA HAS ELUDED JOINT ARMY

Bandit Leader Reported to Have Escaped to Western San Miguel Country, Evading His Pursuers.

Col. Edwin St. John Greble.

He is now in command of the Sixth field artillery, a part of the force guarding Douglas, Arizona, one of the towns for which apprehension is felt because of the threatening attitude of the Mexicans just across the international boundary line.

MANUFACTURING HAS DOUBLED IN NATION

Reports of Manufacturers Show That It Has Doubled Since the Year of 1900.

New York, March 25.—Manufacturers of the United States have doubled in value since 1900, according to an analysis of 1915 census returns thus far published, made by the foreign trade department of the national city bank. These figures show the output for 1914 will amount to twenty-four billion dollars as compared with less than twelve billion shown by the census of 1900.

The compilation shows that the manufactures of the United States now are double those of any other country in the world.

STATE BANKS SHOW GREATER RESOURCES

Remarkable Increase Shown in Past Year According to Statement by Banking Commissioner.

Madison, Wis., March 25.—During the year past the total resources of the state banks of Wisconsin have increased $2,580,467.94. This increase is shown by a statement by the Banking Commissioner A. E. Kuehn, before the steady financial progress of the state. The statement is all the better when it is known that fully one-half of this increase in resources came within the past three months.

On Dec. 31, 1915, the total resources of all of the state banks of Wisconsin were $28,195,066.18. At the close of business on March 1, just passed, these same banks had resources of $30,775,534.12. On March 4, 1915, practically one year ago, the total resources of the state banks of Wisconsin were $28,195,066.18. The increase during the past year was $2,580,467.94. There are at present in the state 717 state banks, an increase of three during the past three months.

The statement issued today shows that the state banks have increased their loans and discounts of $180,552.00. These state banks have an aggregate surplus fund of $7,318,896.43; undivided profits, $3,876,278.33; individual deposits, $2,474,324.88; and savings deposits of $32,763,137.60. During the past three months the state banks have increased their deposits by $3,210,371.91, an increase of $32,763,137.60. Since the beginning of the year, the state banks have been able to issue such a prosperous looking report of finances.

To Nip False Stories. Washington, March 25.—Convinced that powerful influences are at work to spread the rumors of alarming rumors, administration officials were considering just what steps will be taken to bring the agitation to an end.

Many officials believe that a well defined effort is being made by interests owning property in northern Mexico to inflame the minds of people in United States and Mexico to a point where they would be invited to the two countries would be inevitable.

To Use Both Roads. San Antonio, March 25.—If Carranza permits transportation of American supplies over the Northwestern railway to American troops in Mexico, permission to ship over the National railway also probably will be asked, it was stated today at General Funston's headquarters. Since made, the disposition of American troops has been such that the national could be used to better advantage.

Expect News of Fighting. San Antonio, March 25.—With the wireless working satisfactorily for almost the first time since the American troops have been in Mexico, General Funston is today awaiting dispatches from General Pershing's firm persistent reports that United States troops have engaged Villa forces near Nampiquipa.

In messages received yesterday from field headquarters at Casas Grandes, two of the advanced columns were reported to be in the vicinity of Nampiquipa, but no mention was made of an engagement.

The reported killing of three Americans near Gibson's ranch, fifteen miles west of Columbus, presumably by Mexican bandits, was received with deep concern at department headquarters early today.

No explanation was offered for report from El Paso that companies of Seventh Infantry were on duty at police headquarters last night. It was pointed out by officers that Brigadier Bell, in command of troops at El Paso, has authority to employ his troops for best protection of the border town.

EIGHT ARE KILLED BY SEVERE TORNADO

Tornado Sweeps Davis, Oklahoma, Friday Night, Doing Much Damage.

Oklahoma City, Okla., March 25.—Eight persons were killed in a farm house two miles east of Davis, Okla., by a tornado which struck that section early Friday night. The path of the tornado was eight miles long.

RAID REPORTS DENIED

Rumors That Bandits Had Committed Further Depredations on Border Are Found to Be False.

El Paso, March 25.—Francisco Villa was reported early today to be fleeing west of the San Miguel country, having successfully eluded the encircling ring that was being drawn around him by American and Carranza troops. News of the outlaw's retreat westward was brought here from El Valle but could not be confirmed at Fort Bliss or in Mexican circles.

Villa's Men Cut Wires

Several thousand American soldiers are known to be ranging the country south of Casas Grandes in every direction trying to locate the bandit, but have not come into contact with him. Wire communication out of El Paso into Mexico is still interrupted and it is believed that roving bands of Villa men are responsible for the wire cutting. Mexican Consul Garcia was still without further word of the fight reported between Carranza soldiers and Villa at El Paso.

Dispatches received at Mexico City and Douglas, Ariz., apparently confirm the reports of a battle from General Bartrian, in the field, that the troops of the de facto government had come in contact with Villa in the Santa Clara canyon.

General Pershing has made no mention of this battle, and army officers here incline to believe that it was probably no more than an outpost engagement.

Major Sample in command of United States army base at Columbus, has been asked to investigate reports in Douglas, Ariz., that Villa bandits had cut the telephone line between west of Columbus, and murdered several Americans, two women and one man. The bandits, numbering one hundred or more, are said to have recrossed into Mexico from the killing. The reports of the spreading of rumors, presence of such a body of Villa forces in upper Galeana district, would be a threat to the line of communication to base of American communication at Casas Grandes.

General Manuel Medina y Vega, General Manuel Banda, two former Villa officers, who were taken into custody here a few days ago, have disappeared. El Paso jail and are understood to be on their way to New Orleans.

No Border Raid. Columbus, N. M., March 25.—Investigative reports that Mexican brigades had raided the border miles from here and killed three Americans disclosed that they were unfounded. Everything was quiet at the point and there was no trouble there.

To Nip False Stories. Washington, March 25.—Convinced that powerful influences are at work to spread the rumors of alarming rumors, administration officials were considering just what steps will be taken to bring the agitation to an end.

Many officials believe that a well defined effort is being made by interests owning property in northern Mexico to inflame the minds of people in United States and Mexico to a point where they would be invited to the two countries would be inevitable.

To Use Both Roads. San Antonio, March 25.—If Carranza permits transportation of American supplies over the Northwestern railway to American troops in Mexico, permission to ship over the National railway also probably will be asked, it was stated today at General Funston's headquarters. Since made, the disposition of American troops has been such that the national could be used to better advantage.

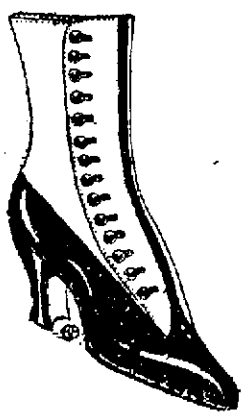

Expect News of Fighting. San Antonio, March 25.—With the wireless working satisfactorily for almost the first time since the American troops have been in Mexico, General Funston is today awaiting dispatches from General Pershing's firm persistent reports that United States troops have engaged Villa forces near Nampiquipa.

In messages received yesterday from field headquarters at Casas Grandes, two of the advanced columns were reported to be in the vicinity of Nampiquipa, but no mention was made of an engagement.

The reported killing of three Americans near Gibson's ranch, fifteen miles west of Columbus, presumably by Mexican bandits, was received with deep concern at department headquarters early today.

No explanation was offered for report from El Paso that companies

Red Cross Boots

The season's accepted styles, comfort guaranteed. $3.00, $3.50 and $4.00.

D. J. LUBY
HOWARD'S

Dry Goods. Milwaukee St.

Curtain Materials

The time is ripe to take care of your needs in Curtain Goods, plain or fancy.

Our stock is very complete, from 10¢ to 50¢.

Exceptional values 15¢, 18¢ and 25¢.

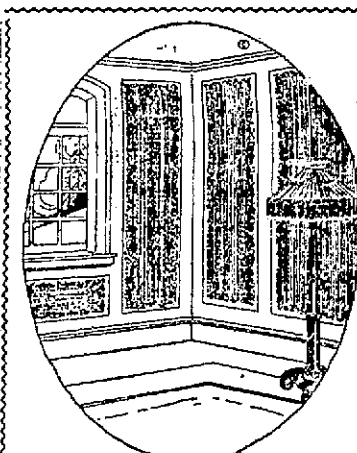

ONE PRICE CASH STORE.

H. L. Mottard, D. C.
TUBERCULOSIS SPECIALIST

321 Hayes Block.
Hours: 9 to 12 m.; 1:30 to 5:30 p. m.
Evenings, 7 to 8.

Bell phone 1080. Rock Co., White 912.

Geo. T. Packard
Piano Tuner and Player Regulator.
Janesville, Wis.
Recommended by all music dealers and leading music houses.

Beautiful Wall Papers

Our spring line is ready for your inspection.

C. W. DIEHLS

THE ART STORE
26 W. Milw. St.

HARMONY

Harmony, March 23.—Ollie Johnson of Milwaukee, is spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Connor. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. McNally, and Miss Doris McCulloch spent Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Strani. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Oldenwald spent a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Dahlmann. School closed in district No. 7 for a week's vacation. Miss Marion Johnston and brother, Ollie, spent Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Connor. William Malone of Johnston, spent Thursday evening at J. P. McNally's. Mr. Horward of Africa, has rented Mrs. Johanna O'Connor's farm, instead of Mr. Burdick's, as stated in the last items. McNally was a business caller in Janesville Thursday. A. S. Hoag had a wood hauling-see Thursday and Friday. Miss Kathryn Pierce is visiting her sister, Mrs. William Costigan. Mr. and Mrs. J. P. McNally were in Janesville Saturday. Misses Margaret and Ruth Malone spent the week-end with their mother.

CITY SEALER OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES WILL ATTEND MILWAUKEE CONFERENCE.

Walter Helms, sealer of weights and measures, may attend the conference for such officials from southeastern Wisconsin, that will be held in Milwaukee on April sixth and seventh. Matters relating to the work of the sealer of weights and measures, the proper methods of testing and the applications of new devices and the tests will be considered at the meeting. A letter was received by Mayor Fathers this morning requesting that the first annual national assemblage at Washington, D. C., on May 25th and 26th, William Howard Taft, president of the League to Enforce Peace, will preside and according to the letter, the assemblage will be the purpose of putting Taft's world's peace plans, as was explained in his address here, before the delegates.

Building Awakening Seen As Parallel To Industrial In Janesville During 1916

The P. H. Quinn Coal and Wood Company's New Building

Janesville's building outlook for the coming season is brightening daily. Contractors are looking forward to a big year in erection operations and predict immense sums to be spent in local improvements. Architects are at work now on no less than four business buildings and the number of residential structures to be built will more than triple the number of structures to be erected in what is known as the downtown district.

Progress on the factory building for the Bower City Repair company, being built by the firm of Ford, Bous & Schoof on their property at the rear of their office and yard on East Milwaukee street, is well under way. The extensive repairs and remodeling of the old garage of the Janesville Motor company on South Main street, where the Janesville Amusement company is making one of the most elaborate moving picture theaters in the state, is progressing rapidly each day. Friday the first of the seats were installed. Work on the Traction and Gas Engine plant has been handicapped due to the storm of Tuesday night and Wednesday. The rapid disappearance of the snow and the drying of the ground will permit foundation excavation of even a greater speed due to the tendency of the rain and melting snow in cutting a good part of the frost from the ground.

One of the recently finished buildings in the city is that for the P. H. Quinn Coal and Wood company, located on North River street at the foot of Wall street, which previous to the placing of the building was one of the worst cesspools of the downtown business district. The new building is a one-story affair of finished brick, containing an office and other storing facilities.

MADISON DEBATERS TAKE LAST CONTEST

Local High School Trio Lost to Madison Second Time in Close Contest Last Night.

After the negative debating team from the high school lost to Madison in that city one week ago by a count of two to one, the affirmative trio dropped another contest last night to the Capital city team by a decision of two to one from the judges. The winning of these two debates by the Madison high gives them the title to the Beloit college debating league of which Janesville and Madison schools were members. The question for debate last night was resolved, that the United States should subsidize its merchant marine. The local team was composed of Harvey Fisher, Charles Hyne and Dean Kimball. Both teams presented some strong arguments and who would win the contest was uncertain until the judges gave their decision. Superintendent Converse of Beloit college, John of Broadhead, and Professor Crawford of Beloit college acted as judges in the final contest last night. The Madison high team received the silver cup which is presented each year to the winner of the league.

ADAMS GETS COUNT OVER WASH. BUNCH

Washington Grade School Five Drons Came to Adams at "Y" Last Night 5-3—Methodist Girls Win.

In an exhibition game at the Young Men's Christian association last night the Adams school basketball team won from the Washington five by a score of 5 to 3. A crowd of over two hundred and fifty were present at the game and the enthusiasm shown was immense. The first ward five, winners of the league, were a little dazed and the members of the team must have been stricken with stage fright. Both teams fought like demons which is shown by the low score. In the first period the second warders secured one basket from the field and two on foul throws. After the rest between halves the Washington lads came back strong and played the first point better. The outcome of this game did not effect their standing in the league and at the close of the struggle two silver cups were presented to the winners by Sup't. H. C. Buell. Summary: Washington—3, Munson, Wilson, 1; Keller, 1 free throw; O'Donnell, Powers, and Spoon. Adams—5, McLaughlin, 1; Rasmussen, 2 free throws; Black and Barriage. Girls' Game. The Methodist and Congregational church girls played a game of basketball which ended 10 to 2 in favor of the Methodist side. The Congregational were poor on basket shooting which was the main reason for their defeat. Mr. Keck of the high school refereed both contests.

TAXES TURNED OVER TO COUNTY BY CITY

City Treasurer Makes Returns to County Treasurer on Tax Collection for Year.

City Treasurer George W. Muenchow today made a return to the County Treasurer F. F. Livermore, and the return record speaks credit to the city and the treasurer for the amount of collections made. The year only the amount of $2,066.66 was turned over to the county for collection and this is the lowest amount on record during recent years. Last year the amount turned in for collection by the county amounted to $3,124.74 and this was considered an unusual low amount. The total taxes collected was $213,974.80 and the tax levy this year was $216.64. The penalties collected by the city amounted to $102.87. The personal property tax collected amounted to $168.48. The income tax, cash collected, was $21,186.62, of which the city received $14,830.64. The city and state $6,655.98. There is $450.61 unpaid income tax that was turned over to the county. Collections are now made by the county at the court house.

SHAKE INTO YOUR SHOES

Allen's Foot-Powder, the antiseptic powder to be shaken into the shoes, gives comfort, health, and relieves chubbiness, frost-bites, painful, smothering feet and instantly takes the sting and smart out of blisters. It is a certain relief for sweating, callous and cold, tired, aching feet. Shake it everywhere, etc. Always new to break in new shoes. This package FREE. Address, Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

SAGER GETS WAUPUN SENTENCE SUSPENDED

Two Youths In Court for Alleged Offense at Cottage Up the River.

Frank Sager and his sentence to one year in Waupun prison suspended by Judge H. L. Maxfield this morning, and the court placed the defendant under the state board of control for the term to be served out on parole. The defendant was a native of Rock county. Sager is the first one to escape a year in prison, without parole, for the crime that he pleaded guilty to, that of escaping from a Milwaukee commitment law sentence.

The warrant charged that Sager escaped from confinement on March 20th. As a matter of fact, Sager did not escape from jail, but was taken to go to work on a farm where he had been paroled and for several days was missing. The violation, under the law, is the same as escaping from the jail and the penalty can be a prison term. At least three others have been sent to Waupun for the same offense under similar conditions.

The reason for the leniency was that Sager is a family man and dependent upon him for support, and in court he laid stress upon the fact that he had five children. He was sentenced to the penitentiary and then signed an application to be placed under the state board of control, which the court allowed.

On the complaint of B. P. Crossman, Clarence Bradley and Arthur Lentz were arraigned in court this morning on the charge of destroying a stand and couch at the Crossman cottage up Rock river. They pleaded not guilty and their case was adjourned until April fifth. No bail was required and they were placed in the custody of an arresting officer. The warrants were served yesterday by W. E. Dull, constable.

During the past six months the cottage up the river has been subject to depredations from looting and smashing of furniture and equipment to complete destruction by fire. The authorities have been investigating the cause and it is said a native of Wisconsin was detailed to guard the property for over a month. The arrests made Friday are the first to be made, and the authorities would not state whether the two youths before court today were implicated in any of the other cases.

The case against Henry Vogel, charged with selling intoxicating liquor to two minors, was adjourned over until Wednesday at ten o'clock. A plea of not guilty was made to the charge. Providing the case comes to trial, it is expected that there will be some interesting facts learned regarding one of the hotels in South Janesville.

James Ward, a farm hand, appeared in the court room this morning nursing a bruised face, and pleaded guilty to the charge of drunkenness. He was given a fine of fifteen dollars or twenty days.

WILL EXHIBIT WORK OF BADGER ARTISTS

Janesville Art League Secures Collection of Over 100 Pictures for Annual Showing.

The Janesville Art League has arranged that their annual exhibit shall this year embrace the work of Wisconsin artists. This collection of pictures has been made under the supervision of the art department of the state. Dudley Watson Glider, was at the head of the jury which passed upon the pictures, which is proof enough of their artistic standard. The exhibit contains over one hundred pictures and is a fine collection of work of over sixty of the best known artists who claim Wisconsin as their home. Many of the names included are among the best known American artists. A descriptive paper also accompanies the collection which helps to explain the meaning and import of the pictures and lives of the artists. This will be given at a club meeting and can also be read to the school children.

To give everyone a chance to see this exhibit and become acquainted with artists of their home state the Art League has decided to make this exhibit absolutely free. But if anyone cares to contribute a small coin to help defray the necessary expenses or to aid the club in purchasing a new picture, the painting of a few specimens of the work of our local artists who have been doing some creditable work along that line, will also be shown and will add materially to its interest. The exhibit will be held in library hall, March 29 through April 1st. Everyone is urged to attend and enjoy the pictures and become acquainted with Wisconsin artists.

DEPARTMENT HORSES VICTIMS OF DISEASE

Every Horse In Fire Department Out of Service—Motors Used to Haul Hose Wagons.

Every horse in the Janesville fire department is out of service, due to illness and a complication of diseases. This leaves the department entirely dependent upon their motor drive apparatus. Veterinarians who were called in to give attention to the animals declared it was the result of a spread of influenza among horses and that might prove serious. One horse died Tuesday at the Monterey station and one or two of the horses at the west side station are seriously affected.

Other horses cannot be brought into the department to afford temporary relief, as they would be endangered by the disease. Every possible attention and care is being given to the horses by the firemen and the veterinarians, in hopes that fatal results can be averted. An automobile was procured last night at the main station to haul the hose wagon, and tests were made today to see if it would be quite a problem to haul the full equipment of the department, especially the engines and the hook and ladder.

See Rockford play tonight at rink.

Whitewater News

PONY AND RIG STILL MISSING FROM WHITEWATER STABLE

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Whitewater, March 25.—Mr. Stelter, who has been working on the Alvin Fish farm, has reported that a pony from the Lehighville livery barn Tuesday to go to Fort Atkinson to get his trunk. He returned that evening and left his trunk at the Whitewater hotel, but did not return the pony to the livery stable. He telephoned from Ft. Atkinson, Wednesday morning saying that it had stabled so he did not want to go out into it. Stelter was seen yesterday at the hotel, and he said that he did not return the pony to the barn. Since that time nothing has been heard of him or the pony and yesterday Deputy Joe Miller and Harry Lettich of the Wisconsin State Police near which place it is claimed Stelter was last seen. They remained in Lake Mills for the night and again took up the search this morning.

Miss Frieda Kriebel, who took a half cup of carbolic acid at Darien yesterday, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Kriebel of this city. She was taken to the hospital at the Whitewater hotel but was working in Darien at present working for Dr. Root. She was eighteen years old.

H. F. Kiser has purchased the Morris house on the corner of the corner lot on the old Gordon property of Fred Messerschmidt and has contracted for a house to be built this summer.

It will be necessary before the streets are paved this summer to run the water service up to the curb of every residence, whether a coal house or not. This is to avoid the necessity of tearing up the pavement for some owner who at some future time decides to put water service in his house. It is a question whether the commission or city pay for putting in pipes from mains to the house. The matter has been up to the commission for six weeks who say it is a new one on them and have not come to a decision yet.

Harold Danmuth of Neenah is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. U. Wheeler.

EAST PORTER

Porter, March 22.—Miss Marie Lay spent a few days in Janesville last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Murphy of Oregon are visiting at the home of J. Murphy, J. Reilly has moved to the B. W. Towns farm, near Fulton, where he will live the coming year.

A number from here attended the St. Patrick's dance at Jess Gilbert's Friday night.

Miss Bessie Condon spent a few days of last week in Janesville.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Peach spent last Monday in Janesville.

Mrs. F. Bob is visiting at the home of J. Wheeler.

C. H. Harnack delivered a cow to Evansville Friday.

Miss Marie Lay spent Tuesday with Agnes Mulloney.

Miss Nora Kealy has returned to her home after spending a few days in Janesville.

Mrs. L. Barrett spent Wednesday at the home of E. Fox.

The sale at the C. E. Sweeney farm Wednesday was well attended.

Mrs. J. Lay returned from Janesville Monday after spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Watts.

WARRANTY DEED. John Boos (s) and William Ford and wife to John B. Francis; pt. bk. 15, Janesville, $1.

Henry O. Leary to Sarah Millard, $3,600; pt. bk. 14, village of Rockford, $1.

Matt F. Lathers and wife to Chas. F. Lathers, $1; lots 10, 11, pt. 9, bk. 4, Yates add, Beloit.

Matt F. Lathers and wife to Chas. F. Lathers, $1; lot 5, Prairie Ave. Park add, Beloit.

To Prevent the Grip. When you feel a cold coming on, stop it by taking LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE and thus keep the system in condition to prevent the GRIP. There is only one "BROMO QUININE." B. W. GROVES' signature on box. 25c.

T. P. BURNS COMPANY

WE SAVE YOU DOLLARS AND CENTS.

Special Sale this week of new spring 1916 Wash Goods, White Goods, Embroideries, Laces, Trimmings and Sheetings at prices which in every instance means a Saving of many Dollars and Cents.

T. P. BURNS COMPANY

THE BUSY STORE IN THE HEART OF JANESVILLE

ASK FOR AND GET HORLICK'S

THE ORIGINAL MALTED MILK

Cheap substitutes cost YOU same price.

TODAY'S MARKETS.

Cattle—Receipts 300; market steady; native beef steers 7.75@10.00; western steers 7.00@8.75; stockers and feeders 6.00@8.25; cows and heifers 4.00@6.00; calves 8.00@10.50.

Hogs—Receipts 9,000; market weak; shade lower than early, which was 10¢ above; light 9.35@9.95; mixed 8.85@9.00; heavy 8.45@9.90; rough 9.45@9.80; pigs 7.40@8.50; bulk of sales 9.70@9.85.

Sheep—Receipts 500; market steady; western 8.50@9.35; lambs, native 9.75@11.70.

Butter—Lower; creameries 28 1/2@36.

Eggs—Unchanged; 21,756 cases. Portland: 32 cars.

Poultry—Alive: Lower; fowls 18; springs 17 1/2.

Wheat—May: Opening 1.08 1/4; high 1.09; low 1.07 1/2; closing 1.08 1/4. July: Opening 1.06 1/2; high 1.07; low 1.05 1/2; closing 1.06 1/4.

Corn—May: Opening 72; high 72 1/2; low 71 3/4; closing 72 1/4. July: Opening 73 1/2; high 74; low 73; closing 73 1/2.

Oats—May: Opening 42 1/4; high 43 1/4; low 42 1/4; closing 42 1/4. July: Opening 41 1/4; high 42 1/4; low 41 1/4; closing 41 1/4.

Cash Market.

Wheat—No. 2 red 1.12; No. 3 red nominal; No. 2 hard 1.00@1.07.

Corn—No. 2 yellow nominal; No. 4 yellow 67 1/2@70; No. 3 white 41 1/4@42; standard 42@43 1/4.

Timothy—$4.50@8.00. Clover—$10.00@18.50. Potatoes—$2.87.

Lard—$11.32. Ribs—$11.62@12.00. Rye—No. 2, 95 1/2.

Barley—60@75.

Friday's Markets. Chicago, March 25.—There was a further advance of 5¢10¢ in hog values yesterday to highest point since March 14.

Canadians bought 1,000 selected swine at $9.55, being within 15¢ of year's high point two weeks ago.

Sheep and lambs met with a brisk call yesterday. Prices strong to 10¢ higher. Fancy 19-lb. wethers made $9.35, a new record price.

Receipts for today are estimated at 200 cattle, 14,000 hogs and 1,000 sheep, against 23 cattle, 7,300 hogs and 60 sheep a year ago.

Average price of hogs at Chicago was $9.76, against $9.72 Thursday, $9.37 a week ago, $8.66 a year ago and $8.50 two years ago.

Closing cattle prices were the highest of the year, with sales largely 25¢ above a week ago. Quotations: Choice to fancy steers... $9.45@10.05.

Yearlings, fair to fancy... 8.30@9.75. Fat cows and heifers... 6.85@9.00.

Canning cows and heifers... 4.30@6.75. Native bulls and stags... 5.75@8.75.

Feeding cattle, 600@1,100. Sheep, 100@1,100. Poor to fancy calves... 6.00@8.30.

Receipts of Hogs Small. Yesterday's hog prices stood 20¢25¢ higher than a week ago. Big packers acted bullish at one close, making a weak finish. Receipts for the week ended smallest in four months and eastern shipments also smallest for a period.

Quotations: Bulk of sales... $9.70@9.85. Heavy butchers and ship... 9.75@9.87 1/2.

Light butchers, 190@230. Light hogs, 145@190. Heavy packing, 260@400.

Mixed packing, 200@250. Rough hogs, 60@135. Poor to best pigs, 60@135.

Stags, 80 lbs. dockage per head. Sheep well readily. A good demand absorbed a 6,000 run of sheep and lambs in short order yesterday at highest prices of the year. Bulk of lambs $8.25@9.75 for short, and $11.25@11.70 for woolled.

Quotations: Lambs, common to fancy $10.20@11.70. Lambs, poor to good culls. 9.25@10.25. Yearlings, poor to best... 8.60@10.50.

Wethers, poor to best... 8.75@9.35.

BELL-ANS

Absolutely Removes Indigestion. One package proves it. 25c at all druggists.

Pond & Bailey
JANESVILLE'S FINEST SHIRTING CENTER

Light weight Poplin Rain-coat, full rubber lined $5.00

Umbrellas with American Taffeta cover, taped edge, for men and women, at $1.00

Union covers, silk and linen, at $2.00 to $3.50

T. P. BURNS COMPANY

WE SAVE YOU DOLLARS AND CENTS.

Special Sale this week of new spring 1916 Wash Goods, White Goods, Embroideries, Laces, Trimmings and Sheetings at prices which in every instance means a Saving of many Dollars and Cents.

T. P. BURNS COMPANY

THE BUSY STORE IN THE HEART OF JANESVILLE

WRIST WATCHES

The finest line of Wrist Watches ever shown in Janesville. See them in our window.

GEORGE C. OLIN
19 W. MILWAUKEE ST.

Examination of Eyes and the Fitting of Glasses

I confine my work to this one line. I have trained myself to this one end. I have made myself a specialist in this. My undivided attention and skill is at your service. I use no drugs.

Joseph H. Scholler
OFFICE BADGER DRUG CO.

A CAR TO SUIT EVERYONE

MITCHELL SIX $1250
DAVIS SIX $1095
SAXON SIX $785
SAXON ROADSTER $395

J. A. STRIMPLE COMPANY

217-219 East Milwaukee St.

HAS YOUR HEATING SYSTEM BEEN SATISFACTORY?

Come in and let us explain how much more efficient and economical a heating plant can be if installed right. Our advice and suggestions are free.

CHAS. E. SNYDER

Practical Plumbing and Heating

Bell phone 474. R. C. 746. 12 North River St.

BASKETBALL

SATURDAY NIGHT AT THE RINK

GAME CALLED AT 9 O'CLOCK

ROCKFORD vs. LAKOTA CARDINALS

Rockford is coming back with a stronger team than before.

Admission, 35c. Skating before and after.

Elgin, Ill., March 25.—Butter, sixty-two tubs, sold at 36 cents.

Excavation of Stone Will Give Paris Open Air Theatre.

Paris, March 25.—In excavating for the opening up of the ancient arena of Lutetia in the Rue Monge on the left bank of the Seine, a deep gallery running parallel to the Seine and paved with stone has been discovered and the engineers in charge are now occupied in exploring it. The work on these excavations is going on actively at this point. When they are finished Paris will possess an open-air theatre capable of accommodating more than 10,000 spectators and provided with a stage one hundred yards long, to which an open square will add a marvelous decoration. It will be the scenery around is a perfect delight. The scene of the arena of Lutetia formerly witnessed the combats of gladiators and chariot races.

Excavation of Stone Will Give Paris Open Air Theatre.

Paris, March 25.—In excavating for the opening up of the ancient arena of Lutetia in the Rue Monge on the left bank of the Seine, a deep gallery running parallel to the Seine and paved with stone has been discovered and the engineers in charge are now occupied in exploring it. The work on these excavations is going on actively at this point. When they are finished Paris will possess an open-air theatre capable of accommodating more than

PETEY DINK—FEATURING MR. P. DINK, THE WELL-KNOWN ECCENTRIC, IN HIS ORIGINAL COMIC SPECIALTY

SPORTS

EVERYTHING IS SET FOR THE BIG BOUT; WILLARD FAVORITE

Wagering is Three to one on Willard to Beat Frank Moran in New York Tonight.

New York, March 25.—With the wagering close to three to one in his favor, Jess Willard, heavyweight champion of the world, will meet Frank Moran in a ten round non-decision bout here tonight for the largest purse ever offered for a fight of this scheduled duration. The two pugilists will receive $71,250, posted by Tex Rickard, the promoter of the match. Of this sum the holder will draw down $47,250 and his opponent $24,000, the understanding of the size of the purse, ahead will clear a handsome profit on the venture since every seat in Madison Square Garden has been sold and the receipts are estimated at more than $140,000.

Although Willard is a top-heavy favorite, interest in the outcome of the bout is intense, and the greatest gathering of fight fans that ever thronged into and about the Garden is expected at that historic show hall this evening when the principals enter the ring. Few large bets have been placed on the contest, owing to the difference in the odds and acknowledged physical advantages possessed by Willard over Moran. Hundreds of small wagers on the result, and on various angles of the fight have been made between friends both in this city and among the large delegations of spectators from other cities of the East, South and Middle-west.

Moran and his camp followers assert that the Pittsburgh heavyweight will win from Willard in a decisive fashion on points if not by a knockout, but the great majority of the fight fans, and the majority of the betting public, are convinced that the Kansas cowboy will fall a victim to Moran's rushes and blows. It is pointed out that the conqueror of Jack Johnson is physically superior in every respect to his opponent and that in a bout of ten rounds it would be little short of a ring miracle for Moran to stretch the champion on the floor for the count.

Willard has Edge. In boxing ability the two pugilists are conceded to be about equal but beyond that point Willard has a marked advantage over Moran in almost every particular. He is taller, heavier, as well as in physical make-up. He will outweigh Moran by close to fifty pounds, stand between five and six inches above the Pittsburgh slugger and have a longer reach of more than six inches than Moran. Both are extremely powerful hitters in proportion to their size but here again Willard's greater physique and strength give him a wide margin. The champion is the more aggressive boxer of the two but the champion's towering height and ability to block with his long arms militate against the chances of the smaller pugilist landing a knockout blow to the head. The task of reaching Willard's body is not so difficult but in all his bouts to date the Kansas has shown ability to take very hard blows in his mind without flinching and to meet a defensive standpoint. Willard is considered to be one of the best equipped boxers of his division in many years. He is equally formidable offensively when aroused, but as a rule, lacks the aggressiveness necessary to win from an opponent of Moran's caliber in ten rounds or less. His best blows are a jab and a right hand uppercut. These blows he uses almost continually and owing to his long reach and great strength the punches carry terrific power when under pressure he can force into them. Under other blows and carries a knockout in either hand when mixing savagely. In his awkward and ponderous style Willard is almost as fast on his feet as Moran although he seldom uses footwork to avoid an opponent. A close quarters he should be able to hold Moran safely, although the latter will be dangerous if he can reach the champion without being hit by his own power and as an fighter, Moran is trained.

Both pugilists virtually completed their training on Thursday and each seems to be in perfect condition for the battle. Moran has been on edge for the bout for close to two weeks and his trainers have had more difficulty in holding him to physical form than Willard's handlers. The champion was slow to round into condition but he had been out of the ring for almost a year while Moran, because of his recent bouts, responded quickly to the conditioning routine. However, once he settled down, his work dropped weight and increased his speed rapidly and while it is doubtful if he is in the same physical shape that he was when he fought Johnson at Havana, he should be able to box the full ten rounds at a speed if necessary.

Whatever the outcome of the battle, the heavyweights will be well rested for their training and struggle. If the contest goes the full ten rounds the principals will receive $10,000 per round or at the rate $2,875 per minute. Of this sum Willard's share will be $1,583.33 and Moran's $1,291.67. The purse of $71,250 is the largest ever offered for a fight of any distance with the exception of the $121,000 given to Johnson and Jeffries by Rickard in their fight at Reno, Nev., in 1910. The stakes are larger than the gate receipts at any fight ever held in New York State under the Horton Law or the present Frazer regulations. But two fights, the Johnson-Jeffries and Johnson-Burns battle in Australia brought receipts in excess of $71,250 and it is difficult to see how the bout has been placed in the hands of the veteran, Charley White, an experienced boxing referee, and he has stated that he will insist upon the principals boxing in strict accordance with the rules. Because of his past experience as third man in the ring at a number of championship battles, White should be able to decide upon all technical points which may arise. Considerable responsibility will rest upon his shoulders as Willard might lose his title in several ways, notwithstanding that the contest is billed as a non-decision bout. Moran would become the heavyweight title holder should he knock out Willard or in case the latter was to foul Moran during the struggle. White is also empowered to stop the fight in case either one of the men is incapacitated for any reason and unable to continue. Such a decision would automatically make the other principal a winner and technically the holder of the title.

LAKOTAS EXPECTING HARD GAME TONIGHT

While New York Watches Willard and Moran, Jamesville Will Watch Dalton and Fogarty.

With a record of two defeats in two games, the Lakota Cardinals go into the game tonight at the Garden against the strengthened Rockford team to again turn the trick against Fogarty. Young et al. in order to finish the season without another blemish on their record. This year better teams were played by the Lakotas than in any time previous, and to date they have not met a team whom they could not defeat. There have been some close battles, but each and every time the Cardinals were pressed they had reserve strength enough to come to the front and win. Without the expected champions, the Lakotas should win from the Rockford team after a harder fight than they had in the last game. They know the strength and weakness of the Rockford bunch and should profit by the experience gained in the last game. All of the team have had orders to indulge in gym practice during the past week as lack of practice had dulled their shooting in the game against Oakland. Dalton has been playing steady at Dubuque, but one never has to worry about the condition of this star for he is the most consistent player on the team. And furthermore, Dalton declares and vows he is going to outscore Fogarty this game, since he has got the scoring luck of late.

Stegeman, Young, Murphy and Thomas formed the club which played at Rockford under the name of Co. E. They are expected to replace the team which played at Rockford, will be stronger than they have been at any time during the season, except when they called in a couple of the Lakota players to aid in winning Co. E. The best team of the best team, William Langdon will referee the game.

LOWER CLASS FIVES MEET MONDAY NIGHT

Freshman and Sophomore Class Teams at High School Meet in First Class Basketball Contest.

The two lower class basketball teams at the high school are both in good condition for the opening game of the class league which will be played at the high gym on Monday afternoon at eight o'clock. Both of these teams will be evenly matched and indications are that there will be one grand fight. Werrill and Ryan are coaching the first year students and their line, composed of Cassin, captain, Cushing, Buell, Dugan, Nizum and Sprackling expect to give the second year men a good drubbing. The sophomores are minus a coach, but they are getting into shape under the leadership of Robert Lane. Other members of this class who have been out for practice in the last few days are: Kimpall, Fein, Hamer, Davidson, Davey and Denning. The junior and senior fives will clash on Tuesday evening and the winners of this game will play the winners of the freshman and sophomore contest. The class league will meet a faculty team on a week from Thursday night for the championship of the school. Mr. Keck will referee the class games.

ONLY TWO FILLIES ARE ENTERED IN KENTUCKY DERBY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Louisville, Ky., March 25.—Horsemen were surprised this week when 56 entries for the forty-second annual running of the Kentucky Derby were announced and included only two fillies. It has been thought that following the tradition shattering performance of Harry Payne Whitney's wonderful race mare Regret last year when she led a field of fifteen geldings and colts and under the wire a number of the so-called "weaker" sex would come to the front for the event this year. One of Whitney's nominations for the stake is a filly, Hanae, a chestnut daughter of the mighty Habburg. Jefferson, the Chicago sportsman, is the other owner to name a filly, Julia L., as a possible starter. She too is well bred, her sire being Harrigan, a great racer at Juarez a few seasons ago.

BELOIT PAIR SET RECORD IN DOUBLES

Perkins and Olson of Beloit Make New Record For Double Class—Other Scores Made Last Night Low. At last one of the records that has been standing in the two-man class at the Miller alleys where the big Southern Wisconsin Bowling Tournament is being held, has been broken down and a new one was established last night by Perkins and Olson from Beloit. In this event these two pin artists rolled three good games and their final score was 1157. This score now puts Goss and Kuenzi of Watertown out of the race for first money in this class. The other Line City pair that rolled in the class last night did fair and ended with a score of 1072. Perkins had good scores in most all the games he rolled in last night and the total number of pins he knocked over amounted to 1898. This exceeds the record set by Sizer of Madison who made a score of 1619 in all the games he rolled in one evening.

In the five-man class the Beloit and Jamesville team had little trouble in staying below the records. The State Liners had a little shade on the Bower City five and their score ended 2445 to Helmer's Buds score of 2441. Missner had the high score in this class with 206 pins.

None of the entrants in the single class had any luck last night as they were all unable to strike the six hundred mark. Perkins took the honors off in this class for last night only with a score of 556.

Today will probably see a change in the scores as three crack teams will take the alleys to roll off their different events. Three teams, from Madison, Whitewater and Rockford will be here. Scores and leaders:

Heimer's Bufiles	Score	Score	Score
Kirchoff	148	142	144
Robbins	173	177	159
Howard	169	163	183
Swanson	171	170	129
Osborn	183	157	181
	850	809	776-2444

Odd Boys	Score	Score	Score
Schober	133	132	130
Perkins	133	165	192
Olson	173	188	148
Missner	172	206	108
Goss	136	194	169
	830	835	747-2465

Beloit Singles	Score	Score	Score
Perkins	170	92	138-556
Olson	133	138	177-478
Goss	124	132	145-457
Missner	170	192	157
Schober	176	195	144-515

Jamesville Singles.

A. Huebel	156	119	188-463
-----------	-----	-----	---------

Following are the leaders in the tournament up to date:

Five Man Event:

Wilowski High Life, Watertown	2578
-------------------------------	------

Imperial, Madison	2578
-------------------	------

Miller's Sox, Jamesville	2578
--------------------------	------

Miller's Regulars, Jamesville	2508
-------------------------------	------

Two Man Event:

Perkins-Olson, Beloit	1157
-----------------------	------

Goss-Kuenzi, Watertown	1111
------------------------	------

Sizer-Exage, Madison	1073
----------------------	------

Oakey-Paulus, Madison	1020
-----------------------	------

Schillinger-Hansen, Madison	1012
-----------------------------	------

Individual Event:

Harry O'Brien, Watertown	622
--------------------------	-----

Belling, Watertown	579
--------------------	-----

Perkins, Beloit	556
-----------------	-----

All Events:

Perkins, Beloit	1656
-----------------	------

Sizer, Madison	1619
----------------	------

O'Brien, Watertown	1611
--------------------	------

Goss, Watertown	1572
-----------------	------

Match Game.

Two four-man teams from the Elks	lodge rolled off a match game on the Miller alleys last night, and the struggle resulted in a victory for Elks No. 2. A picked team of the best bowlers in the lodge will roll for honors in the tournament in the near future. Scores:
----------------------------------	---

Elks No. 1	Score	Score	Score
Hove	116	120	114
Reinberg	146	105	102
Reinhartz	110	126	128
Stern	96	122	136
	468	473	480-1421

Elks No. 2	Score	Score	Score
J. Francis	168	145	99
Francis	126	138	113
Ed. Kemmerer	148	119	149
Haskins	89	103	100
	521	496	492-1509

MORAN SAYS HE'LL WIN; JESS SAYS THE SAME, BUT BOTH WILL GET THE GOLD

New York, March 25.—"If I feel as good when I enter the ring as I do the minute I have no doubt I will be returned a winner, whether the fight goes ten rounds or not. I have never before felt the agility and health that I have now. Willard has never been accused of being anything but a fair boxer. Speed is usually a lacking quality in a man of such huge size."—Frank Moran.

We'll See Sunday.

I am going to knock Moran out in the shortest possible order. His right will never get near enough to hurt me. I never in my life was in better shape than I am today for the Moran fight. I have trained down almost to my skin and expect to enter the ring weighing about 245 pounds, a reduction of 15 pounds. I will rest up for about a month after beating Moran and then go out again with the circus."—Jess Willard.

HIGH PRAISE GIVEN TO CHICAGO BOXER

Charlie White, Chicago's Prize Left Jabber, Lauds Work of Maurice Flynn in the Ring. By Charlie White. Contender for lightweight championship. Chicago, March 25.—Chicago is a great field for fighters of championship and near championship material. This city has given to the world, Packey McFarland, Johnny Coulton, Battling Nelson and countless other men who have made great reputations in the prize ring. I might include myself in this. It is about to give another sensation to the padded mitt game, a young west sider who has every requisit of a champion—Maurice Flynn.

The latter recently graduated from the featherweight division, not so much because of the increased weight, but because he tried to go over to good men of that field and he finds himself without opponents. I have watched him on a number of occasions, but not until I trained for my match with Matt Wells did I really discover how good this youngster is. He aided me in my training and to his science, speed, skill and cleverness I attribute much towards my win over the Englishman.

Flynn is a great boxer, a great ring general. He has speed, science and plenty of cleverness, but most of all a good head. He is more like the boys of the old school. He pulls his head back and punches with the elbow and makes his opponent miss. He made me miss several times and I prized myself with being an accurate puncher. Like the great Joe Gangs, he blocks the punches he really gets started. He has every requirement of a champion. All he needs is the chance to display his wares. As a featherweight he trimmed everything.

His lightest fight was against Tommy Dixon twice, Matty McCue and Charles Sittly, all good boys. He still can box 128 pounds easily, but would box boys as high as 135 pounds. This shows his confidence. He really got a genuine stamina for a young fellow and is as game as they make 'em. Friday night in Minneapolis he tackled Benny Palmer, a mighty tough boy and I'm for picking him to win.

NEW DICTIONARY OFFER TO READERS OF THIS PAPER

Marvelous Guide to Correct Use of Today's English at Cost of Handling.

A new dictionary, exclusively for our readers, is to be distributed by this paper. This book is The New Universities Dictionary. This dictionary, new in vocabulary, new in type, new in style, is the ready of English, bound in flexible leather, is the handsomest, most convenient and most thorough work of this kind ever published.

Unique in many respects, The New Universities Dictionary surpasses all works of ready reference in the substantial qualities of its contents. The book was compiled by expert American lexicographers, including Prof. Percy W. Long, Ph.D., Department of English, Harvard University; Prof. Forrest S. Lunt, M.A., Instructor in English, Columbia University; Prof. Clark S. Northup, Ph.D., Department of English, Cornell University; Prof. Morris W. Croil, Ph.D., Department of English, Princeton University; Prof. John C. Rolfe, Ph.D., Department of Latin, University of Pennsylvania. The editor-in-chief is George J. Hagar.

At Cost of Handling. This dictionary is to be secured by our readers at the mere cost of handling. Knowing the necessity of a new dictionary at the present time, this paper arranged for exclusive control of the first edition of The New Universities Dictionary for a limited time. It is especially urgent that every reader secure a copy upon the first day of distribution.

Every protection is furnished so that readers will get the books if they cut the coupons as directed in the advertisement. There will be no other let for the volumes. They can only be secured with the coupons. Only three coupons will be required in this campaign, and they will be readily found in the paper daily.

A brisk demand is anticipated, for this book contains hundreds of words brought into general and proper use by advances in music, art, science, war, religion, etc., that are found in no other dictionary. Accurate and authoritative, The New Universities Dictionary, nevertheless, is made simple, direct and plain. It shows for everyday home, school, the history, growth and today's uses of English. It is a book designed for daily and constant use with great convenience in office and home. Business men will find it a fine help in every stenographer is provided with one, and stenographers who wish to keep abreast of the new words being added by their employers to business correspondence will find it a valuable guide.

PITCHER RAYMOND FAGAN GOING BACK TO MINORS, SAYS THE DETROIT "WAR" SCRIBES

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Detroit, March 25.—Pitcher Ray Fagan of the Detroit Americans must round another season in the minors. Dispatches from local baseball writers with the Tigers at the Wapakonah, Tex., training camp said that Manager Jennings has decided to leave Fagan with the Beaumont, Tex., club when the Tigers break camp. Fagan last season established a record, picking up 11 games for the Oklahoma City club of the Western association, and making them all. He recently picked part of a practice game for Detroit, and Manager Jennings, after looking him over, decided he needed more experience.

MAY SMASH THE RECORD IN FIFTY YARD HURDLES IN RACE AT ST. LOUIS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] St. Louis, March 25.—An attempt to lower the world's record in the fifty yard hurdles indoors is planned for tonight's track meet at the auspices of the Missouri Athletic association. The four athletes entered in the event are Robert Simpson, University of Missouri, who holds the world's outdoor record of 0.15 for the 120 yards hurdle; P. H. Starr of Cornell university, one of the fastest hurdlers in the east; Packer of the Iowa State Agricultural college, and Ames of the University of Illinois. The high hurdles is but one of the star events to be contested tonight. P. W. Floyd of the University of Missouri, who recently set an indoor record for the pole vault on a board door, is entered for that event, as is Foss of Cornell, whose outdoor record is 12 feet; Culp of the University of Illinois; Graham of the Chicago Athletic association, and Knorck of the Illinois Athletic club, Chicago. Floyd's record is 12 feet 3 3/4 inches. Most of the colleges in the Missouri Valley conferences have sent entries.

OKLAHOMA FOOTBALL SQUAD IN LIGHT SPRING PRACTICE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Norman, Okla., March 25.—For the second season Coach Owen of the University of Oklahoma squad is indulging in spring practice. Hot weather workouts were started last week with a number of recruits from stellar high school ranks on the field. This sort of spring training for the fall sport will continue until the weather becomes too warm, and until the baseball season is well under way. Owen believes the preliminary try-outs for the varsity squad, made at this time, saves a great deal of time as it eliminates the weeding out process for the autumn.

One of the faults of Frank Gilhooley which was pointed out when he was returned to the Yankees by Buffalo was that he had a weak throwing arm and that it would stand between him and a major league club. Gilhooley was a weak thrower while he was filling a previous engagement with the Yanks, but he is showing great throwing ability at Macon this spring, and the prediction is made that he will display some wonderful pegs when the season opens.

Sport Snap Shots MORRIS MILLER

Hap Meyers, the man who is said to have the longest running stride of any ball player, is now a member of the San Francisco club. Meyers was purchased from the Brooklyn Dodgers by the Yankees. He played for the Yankees before he became a professional ball player. From California, Meyers jumped to the Northwestern league, made a hit as first baseman and went to the majors. He played for the Braves and Red Sox before he hopped to the outlaws. The first sacker hit 223 and stole 32 bases for the Brooklyn last year and hit .302 and stole 32 bases for Baltimore the year preceding. Meyers can reach first base from the home plate in ten strides. He will fight it out with Chick Autrey for the regular first base job.

There is no great problem confronting Manager Griffith so far as his outfield is concerned. He announced during the winter that he expected to carry enough gardeners to be able to shift in two right handed hitters for Jamieson and Barber whenever the occasion arises. He has a competent crew in Jamieson, Milan Moeller, Shanks and Barber, and he may carry them all, because Shanks also can be used in the infield. Horace Milan is a young man of great ability but he is not going to improve sitting on the bench, and unless he can get into the game regularly Griffith does not propose to let him deteriorate, and will farm him for a year to some minor league, where he can play every day and learn something.

It is, of course, no secret that ball players have a hard time of it. The better usually lets the runner know when to start, but sometimes this is worked the opposite way. Moeller and Foster have worked the same set of signs ever since they have been in Washington. They have three entirely different sets, which make them famous with the hit-and-run play, and they change them three times during a game, in order to keep the opposing team from guessing what they are. The two players agree beforehand upon which set they will use. They use the numbers, two and the three, and they can switch at any time they like, and come suspicious that their plans have been discovered by the position.

One of the most absurd suggestions ever made in regard to a pitcher comes from Jimmy Burke, who says that if Lowdermilk will confine himself to curving his pitching he will have an absolute success. Curve-ball pitching is easier to hit than good, fast pitching if the pitcher throws nothing else. He must mix up his various deliveries in order to be successful, and if Lowdermilk would pitch nothing but curves he would have a fine time getting the side out. Jimmy knows baseball too well to be taken seriously when making such remarks.

THEY LET HIM SLEEP

H. T. Strayner, Gainesville, Ga., R. R. No. 3, was unable to sleep all night without getting up. "Sometimes only a few minutes after going to bed, I would have to get up, and I tried everything I heard of for the trouble. Finally I tried Foley Kidney Pills and after taking one bottle I believe I am entirely cured, and I sleep soundly all night." Foley Kidney Pills (one up weak, sluggish kidneys, rid the body of poisons, give appetite, energy and refreshing sleep.—W. T. Sherer.

Everwear Hosiery

For men and boys, all colors, guaranteed to give satisfaction; 25c per pair.

T. J. ZIEGLER & CO. INC.

JOS. M. CONNORS, Mgr.

Specialists of Good Clothes and Nothing Else. The Home of John B. Stetson Hats, Wilson Shirts, Lewis Underwear, Mailory Cravetted Hats, Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes.

A word to the wise—to those who advertise. Use want ads every day; our word for it, they'll surely pay.

H. L. McNAMARA
Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

C. W. DIEHLS
Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

AN INVITATION

You are cordially invited to visit our stores on the dates named below, and learn how to refinish floors, furniture, etc. This occasion is very special.

A representative direct from The Ohio Varnish Company will be with us with a display of beautiful colorings and finishes for woodwork, floors, furniture, etc.

We want you to make a test of Chi-Namel Varnish on your own furniture. During this demonstration we will give you free this regular 20c can of whatever color you select if you will buy a 10c brush to apply it with.

This will be your opportunity to get a personal demonstration and first-hand information from one who knows. You will also be presented with a reference book illustrated and full of practical information on finishing of all kinds.

REGULAR 20c CAN FREE

Containing enough varnish to cover 25 sq. ft. of surface.

THIS COUPON

is good for one 20c can of Chi-Namel Varnish upon the purchase of one new 10c brush (merely to insure a fair trial) during our CHI-NAMEL DEMONSTRATION. (Dates given below). If larger can is desired, Coupon will apply as 20c against purchase price.

Name _____
Address _____

H. L. McNAMARA
Demonstration
March 27-28-29.

C. W. DIEHLS
Demonstration
March 30-31-April 1.

THE GIRL AND THE GAME ...

Copyright 1915 by Frank H. Spearman.

With Arden station left far behind, Helen, making the utmost possible speed in Seagrue's machine, scanned the track ahead for a glimpse of the wild car. Resolved at any cost to overtake it, she was running the machine on the right of way and on the track itself in her determined effort. When she caught sight of the runaway, no one was to be seen upon it, but she knew Rhinelander and Storm were inside and as she began to overhaul the chase, she sounded her horn insistently. The two men, leaving Spike, who in the face of the common danger had pulled himself partly together, looked out of the side door. To their amazement they saw at their heels Helen bumping violently along in Seagrue's machine. She signaled them excitedly. She tried to shout to them but could not make a word heard above the deafening noises. Rhinelander and Storm did make out, however, that she wanted them to go to the top of the car and the two men climbed the side ladder again.

Threw His Whole Weight on the Brake.

careful aim, threw it up on top of the car. The men secured the shoe and read the note:

Passenger due—Must ditch car—Jump.

Rhinelander and Storm looked at each other and looked down the line. The smoke of the passenger train rose on the horizon. There was nothing to do but what Helen directed. They thought of Spike below, but Helen was calling to them and without further delay the two men jumped one after the other down into the machine. They told Helen of Spike's plight. She nodded as if the difficulty were no more than a detail, slued the machine from between the rails, drove around the outfit car, slowed along side it and all three shouted. Spike, hearing his name, listened and sat up. He saw the machine outside the door and crawled forward but he was unequal to a leap. Rhinelander and Storm urged him to make every effort. He got to his feet and did the best he could toward a jump. The men together half caught and half pulled him into the machine. With the three aboard, Helen sped on ahead of the runaway.

Storm had decided what to do. "I'll drop off the hind end, Helen," he exclaimed, "and dangle two car."

She caught his idea. "Quick!" she cried. "No time to lose."

Storm rolled over the back of the machine and dropped to the ground. A bridge spanned an arroyo just ahead. Running forward, Storm caught up such loose rocks as he could reach and placed them along the track. Helen, choosing a negotiable point, turned her machine courageously off the right of way and steered it safely down the embankment. The outfit car struck the rocks Storm had thrown on the track. It reeled, plunged wildly into the air and shot headlong over the bridge into the bottom of the arroyo.

NEWS NOTES from MOVIELAND

BY DAISY DEAN

Antonio Moreno has a history that is as romantic as his looks, and that being so, it is not surprising that he is being called a romantic. Born in Madrid, Spain, his family originally intended that he devote his life to the priesthood. He, too, had thought that the church was his vocation—but a beautiful girl came into his life and he changed his ideas. This lasted for a time, and when the storm had passed he found himself in love again—this time with the stage. It was not long before he proved that he had marked histrionic ability, and about four years ago he came to America, there to work his way to the front in his chosen profession. Between "legitimate" engagements he posed for the camera, and it was not long until he was under contract with this corporation. Mr. Moreno is five feet ten inches tall, has black hair, dark, brown eyes and weighs 170 pounds. He is very athletic and loves dancing. He can sail a boat, drive a car and at those things. Evidently perfectly adorable—and not married!

CHAPLIN PICTURES

ONCE CAUSE OF WAR

Charlie Chaplin has become a chief subject of controversy, almost eclipsing the war in Europe. The country is divided into two groups. In one party are those who swear with expectation and palpating interest the announcement of his next release. In the other group are those who earnestly and vehemently deprecate him and all his works. This explains a divorce suit just filed in San Francisco. The dispatches give the names. A charming young matron of that city went to the movies every chance she had to see Chaplin. Her eyes had longed to the other group. He told her not to go again. She went, and the suit for divorce was filed.

Breaking her own osculatory record, Miss Iva Shepard—the "vampire"—used forty-five feet of celluloid ribbon to record a kiss upon the lips of Earl O. Schenck. Earl came up pale, but smiling. The chase salvaged a large section of "The Hound of the Baskinville," which will be released in April.

An automatic fender and guard attached to the front of the automobile driven by Maude Gilbert, star of the

In the distance the oncoming passenger train was whistling for a crossing close ahead. Storm running back to the track, cleared it hurriedly of the obstructions. The engineer of the train, scenting trouble, tried to check his train, but it was too late and Storm, to save himself, dropped down between the ties and hung there till the heavy train hurtled past. No engine driver was ever more relieved than the man in the passenger cab, when he saw himself safely across. He stopped his train. From the foot of the bridge, Helen, Spike and Rhinelander were making their way to the top and were with Storm when the crew and passengers came back. The engineer angrily told the conductor the trouble. But after Storm's brief story, he was as grateful as he had been indignant.

The conductor, knowing the anxiety among the dispatchers, urged his passengers on board and the train hastened on. The moment it pulled into Arden the conductor gave the details to the operator and the latter wired headquarters. In the dispatchers' office it was the chief himself who jumped to the instrument when he heard the Arden call. It was the chief who took the message telling how Helen and Storm had saved the train. But the chief, as he wiped his face with his handkerchief, reflected that it was only another incident in the day's work on the rail, happily, instead of tragically, closed.

At the bridge Spike was trying to express his gratefulness to the three who had rescued him. They left the scene together in the commandeered machine, and with perhaps a little better understanding of one another than any of them had yet reached.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Amusements

(Notices furnished by the theatres.)

AT MYERS THEATRE

The event of the season will be the appearance at Myers theatre on March 26-27 of Cal Stewart. The best liked and best known rural comedian of the country. A man whose name is a household word. A man who has sold more of his records than any one person living or dead. A man who has entertained and been entertained in every large city in the world, who has been the guest of King Edward production, "The Fool's Revenge," saved from death an eight-year-old New York girl when struck by the actress' machine.

Antonio Moreno.

This popular star will appear again shortly with Edith Storey in a big feature.

The enlisted men at the fort near Savannah gave the movie players a dance the other night. Polly Van wore out two corporals, three sergeants and half a dozen private soldiers.

John Davidson, who played the boy in "Madam X," is in Savannah.

of England, Emperor William of Germany, Emperor Franz Joseph of Austria, Pope Leo 15th, the Czar and Czarina of Russia, the Khedive of Egypt, the Shah of Persia at Teheran, the Prince of Siam at Bangkok,

"Happy Cal" Stewart at Myers theatre, Sunday and Monday, March 26 and 27.

Siam, also specially appeared before the Emperor The Ann in the Imperial Seventh Garden at Peking, China, and before the Grandees at Delhi, Calcutta and Rangoon. Manager Myers has secured Cal Stewart & Co. at a very large expense and is giving the public one of the best entertainments to appear at his house this season.

AT THE APOLLO.

"Chimmie Fadden" Again. In bringing before the photoplay public again, the popular American comedian, Victor Moore, in his latest picture, the Apollo is complying with scores of requests.

Chimmie Fadden is a character of American literature likely to live as long as Tom Sawyer or other famous youths of fiction. Chimmie is city bred. He is a product of the bowers with all the instincts and mannerisms of the city ragamuffin, whose vision of life is limited by skyscrapers and stone pavements.

What happens to Chimmie when he goes to the far west, becomes a mining prospector and tries the simple life is most interestingly told in "Chimmie Fadden Out West," which will be seen again on Tuesday.

Cecil B. De Mille, director general of the Lasky Feature Play company, is the producer of "Chimmie Fadden Out West."

A children's matinee will be given at 4:15.

AT THE APOLLO.

"Pudd'nhead Wilson" on Wednesday. In producing Mark Twain's famous work, "Pudd'nhead Wilson" the Jesse L. Lasky Feature Play Company presents at the Apollo Wednesday, the first of a series of picturizations of the noted humorist's novels. "Pudd'nhead Wilson" will be followed by "Tom Sawyer," "Huckleberry Finn" and others.

"Pudd'nhead Wilson" occupies a unique place in the annals of American humorous literature. Its story—said to have been the first piece of fiction which made use of the now familiar finger-print method as a means of establishing identity—is melodramatic, who have introduced it with a deep note of human sympathy and interest. "Pudd'nhead Wilson," the southern lawyer from whom the book takes its title, is a character in American literature and his crisp sayings will live forever.

No actor of the stage or screen is so well suited to the role of "Pudd'nhead Wilson" as Theodore Roberts. America's leading screen character star, Mr. Roberts brings out the subtle humor of Wilson, who swayed a whole community by his personality during an exciting trial, finally establishing the innocence of a youth unjustly accused. There is a gripping love story through the photoplay.

AT THE APOLLO.

Hazel Dawn Turns Detective. You are a southern belle, reared in the lap of luxury, but temporarily penniless, who have introduced you to a group of total strangers and a baroness. Shortly afterward, a stranger comes to the house and is announced as the bare, your husband! What are you to do? Run, and lose the only chance of winning a reward that will enable you to keep a roof over your head, or stand and meet the man and trust to fate to help you out of your rightful dilemma.

In "My Lady Inco," in which Hazel Dawn is starred by the Famous Players Film company on the Paramount Program at the Apollo on Monday, she acts to stay an eye on it, though she has no possible means of knowing whether the man is an impostor like herself or whether she has really changed upon some bona fide title in selecting a man in which to make her home.

An the battle of wits which this fair-haired vision puts up against the crooks who are attempting to trail to earth is so realistic that one forgets Miss Dawn is merely acting and throws his whole heart and soul into

Myers Theatre

LAST TIME TONIGHT

PRICES—25c, 35c, 50c.

Apollo

Matinee daily at 2:30
Evening 7:30 and 9:00

TONIGHT

FEATURE VAUDEVILLE

ROSSINI TRIO

Russian singers, dancers and instrumentalists.

STEIN & HUME

Singing comedians.

CURTIS TRIO

Singing and Piano.

RAY & BRANDON

A different boy, girl and songs.

PHOTOPLAYS

Always interesting.

VAUDEVILLE PRICES—Matinee daily 10c. Evening 10c and 20c.

SUNDAYS—Matinee, children, 10c; adults, 20c. Evening, balcony, 10c; 1st floor 20c.

helping her ferret out the thieves. Nell Carroll is a totally different role from anything that Hazel Dawn has ever interpreted on the screen, and it is by far the most brilliant and delightful characterization which she has done.

FAIR PREMIUM LIST WORK PERTAINING TO SCHOOLS IS NOW BEING PREPARED

H. C. Buell, superintendent of the Janesville schools, County Superintendent O. D. Antidel and A. B. West, of the agricultural department of the Janesville high school, who have been delegated by the board of directors of the Janesville Park association, the Janesville fair board, to have charge of those departments pertaining to school children, at the present time are busy engaged in their work. They are now revising the rural school premium list. Prof. Buell has charge of the local schools. Mr. Antidel the rural schools, and Mr. West has been assigned the contests, such as stock, corn, etc. The lists are expected to be completed to permit their use in the monthly bulletin of the county school body next week.

Feminine Guile.

Some girls can't even wear an air of innocence without making it conspicuous.—Life.

Myers Theatre

2-DAYS-2

Sunday and Monday, March 26-27. Matinee Sunday at 2:45.

ENGAGEMENT EXTRAORDINARY

The man who has made millions laugh

CAL STEWART

The Uncle Josh of Phonograph Fame

NOT A PICTURE

But Himself.

GYPSY ROSSINI

THE ROUMANIAN VIOLINIST

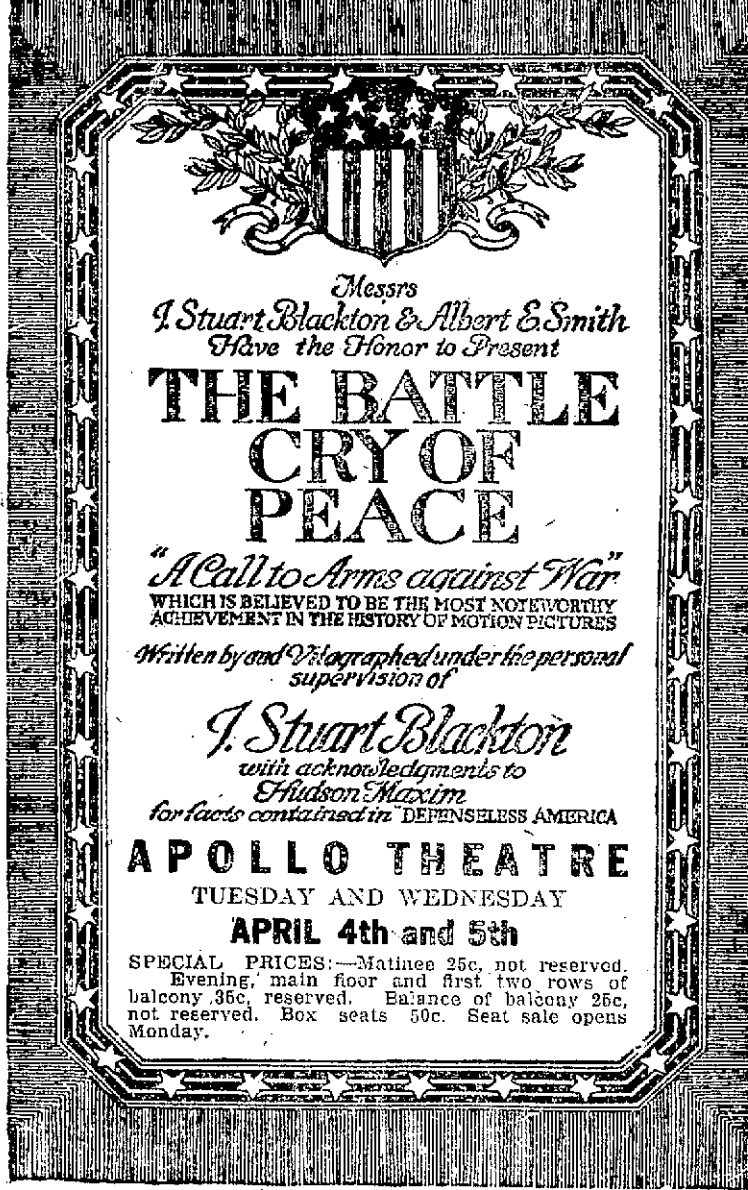

In a Repertoire of Classic and Popular Selections

MARGIE STEWART

Comedienne and Pianist.

These 'Big Attractions.

PRICES:—Adults, 20c. Children, 10c.

EXTRA PRINCESS THEATRE SPECIAL

SPECIAL MONDAY

The story of the greatest friendship in the history of man

DAMON and PYTHIAS

The world's premier dramatic spectacle offered in six parts

SPECIAL ATTENTION

Oriental Lodge No. 22 Knights of Pythias of Janesville, recommend and suggest that as many as possible of the citizens of Janesville avail themselves of the opportunity of seeing the story of friendship as shown in the play Damon and Pythias.

Dated March 14, 1916.
J. P. HAMMARLUND,
Chancellor Commander.
W. M. Smith, K. of R. & S.

SUPREME LODGE KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS
Office of the Supreme Keeper of Records and Seals
Fred E. Wheaton, S. K. R. S.

We, the undersigned officers and members of the Supreme Lodge Knights of Pythias, after having witnessed in Minneapolis, Minnesota, this 12th day of October, 1914, an exhibition of your superb production, entitled "Damon and Pythias," do unhesitatingly pronounce it, in our judgment, as being the most comprehensive picture, perfect in detail and artistic in character, of any picture or film to our knowledge, yet produced depicting the story of one of the world's greatest examples of human friendship. We personally endorse this production believing it the greatest work of its character ever produced in America, and we cheerfully recommend its use under the auspices of the Supreme Lodge of the Knights of Pythias.

Very truly yours, (Signed)
Brig. S. Young, S. C. Bernard Murphy, S. R. Iowa
John J. Brown, S. V. C. Chas. J. Deckman, S. R. Ohio
F. E. Wheaton, S. K. R. S. R. S. White, S. R. Wis.
Matinee, 10c. Evening, 20c.

TUESDAY

THE DRAMATIC and MOTION PICTURE STAR

Lenore Ulrich

in the thrilling photo-drama

'The Better Woman'

Five gripping, heart stirring acts of Love, Jealousy, Hatred and Heroism, full of tense situations and with an intensely dramatic climax.

Admission, 10c.

THURSDAY

The Beautiful Motion Picture Artist

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG

in a modern version of Alexandre Dumas' immortal drama of Plot and Passion. Produced by the renowned director, Albert Capellani.

'CAMILLE'

This picture will fascinate mankind all the world over. It is Clara Kimball Young's greatest triumph.

Admission, 10c.

Apollo

Matinee daily at 2:30
Evening 7:30 and 9:00

MONDAY

DANIEL FROHMAN

presents the beautiful little star

HAZEL DAWN

in a rare combination of laughs and thrills.

My Lady Inco

A Paramount Feature.

ALL SEATS 10c.

TUESDAY

by request

JESSE L. LASKY

presents the infallible laugh maker

VICTOR MOORE

in a return showing of his latest play

CHIMMIE FADDEN

OUT WEST

A Paramount Feature.

ALL SEATS 10c.

CHILDREN'S MATINEE

at 4:15 P. M., 5c.

WEDNESDAY

JESSE L. LASKY

presents

THE ODORÉ ROBERTS

in a picturization of

MARK TWAIN'S

PUDD'N HEAD WILSON

A Paramount Feature.

ALL SEATS 10c.

MAJESTIC

TONIGHT

THROUGH THE DELLS

of the Wisconsin

The GIRL and the GAME

and Others

MAJESTIC

MONDAY ONLY

THEDA BARA

Co-Starring With

NANCE O'NEIL

In Tolstol's Vivid Drama

KREUTZER SONATA

SUNDAY

DIVERSIFIED

PROGRAM OF

SELECTED PICTURES

TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY

ANOTHER EXCELLENT AMERICAN

MADE PHOTOPLAY IN NATURAL

COLORS.

THE SHRINE of HAPPINESS

PHOTOGRAPHED IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

AND STARRING JACKIE SAUNDERS AND A COMPETENT SUPPORTING CAST.

ALL ATTRACTIONS 10 CENTS

(Published Saturdays.)

We will arrange terms to suit your convenience.

MILLIGAN & TAYLOR
Eansville, Wis.

Adam Forepaugh, Jr., is a lone survivor of the old line of circus magicians. No more does one hear of P. T. Barnum and "Jim" Bailey, the Forepaughs, Walter L. Main, the Robinsons and other combinations that were household phrases only a few years ago.

Mercurial ointment makes a fairly good substitute for the common mixture of graphite and oil for preventing wear-cups from sticking when screwed down tight. It has the disadvantage, however, it is poisonous, whereas graphite is not.

• • • • •

When ball bearings become worn it is not always necessary to have complete new bearings installed. The old ones can be repaired and be almost as good as new. This can be done by grinding up the ball races and using larger balls of proper size.

• • • • •

If the lights go out suddenly or the horn refuses to blow, under an inspection for blown fuses. The fuse box is usually located in an accessible place, and the installation of a new fuse will quite often prove the answer.

Porter car that has given me excellent service for nearly a year and a half, but now it fails to run the motor. It will revolve in either direction, but the plugs and I can take out the plugs and lay them on the cylinder head they will spark nicely, but when they are replaced the motor will not run. I have changed the timing of the vibrator, but it did no good. Will you kindly tell me what is the matter and how to get it going. I have a 12 volt car and could on my Ford car crank engine up, but I lack up a rear wheel and throw the motor in gear, then it cranks easily. When I get into gear it cranks all right. When I get into trouble it cranks all right. When I get in regard to the vibrator, forget to say that I disconnected it and adjust up the dash coil the motor will run.

Will you please tell me the trouble is due to the condenser of the master coil being defective. You will probably remedy this trouble by cranking the motor with the hand crank. I am transmitting with [illegible]The Eveready logo, featuring the word "Ever" in a stylized, cursive font, with "Eveready" written in a smaller, sans-serif font below it. The logo is set against a dark background.

What part of an auto?

_____

And that's complete. Everything with it.
Nothing extra to buy.

You've got to have a car. Order this Over-

E. A. REMMERER, Prop.
The Willys-Overland Company, Toledo, Ohio
"Made in U. S. A."

We will arrange terms to suit your convenience.

MILLIGAN & TAYLOR
Eansville, Wis.

We will arrange terms to suit your convenience.

MILLIGAN & TAYLOR
Eansville, Wis.

way, is one of the big newspapers of the country. In the Public Ledger is a very interesting article, which is reported by George Harzlett, one of the greatest, if not the greatest, clown in the circus business today.

This paper did not make an impression on me, that the same Public Ledger did twenty years ago next month. While showing in Europe, the Public Ledger took occasion to write up the Adam Forepaugh show, at that time mentioning many European features, which were new. Philadelphia being the first place in the United States for several of these new European acts. In those days Adam Forepaugh brought many new acts from Europe, and as Philadelphia was his home and winter quarters, it was there that the public would take their first look at the new features. At that time the article said that not all of the acts of the show were to be seen on the inside, nor did they all come from Europe, but that a free exhibition was given of the new acts, such as the "lightning" ticket seller every afternoon and evening. Thousands of people gathered every afternoon and evening, to watch the fast work of the ticket seller, until the large crowd had disappeared.

W. B. Editor. This refers to Mr. Watt himself.

Where are the circus kings of yesterday? The sawdust trail that leads from out of the big top and on into the big named skies and hushed silence of the big cities has seen them pass. There is none by one, until today, only the circus pioneers—members of the old schools that raised the circus from country side-show to a glittering main to tell of joy-for millions—remain to tell of the "good old days."

But what of the other famous showmen? No more does one hear of P. T. Barnum and "Jim" Bailey, the Forepaughs, Walter L. Main, the Robinsons and their combinations that were household phrases only a few years ago.

Adam Forepaugh, Jr., is a lone survivor of the old line of circus magpaugh, himself a great horse and elephant trainer in his time. Adams, it is now known, lives in retirement in Philadelphia, wealthy with millions accumulated while he and his father were in the circus business together, and after the death of his father, until he sold out to the Ringlings.

Virtually all the old-time circuses have been merged into the Ringlings' vast aggregation of today. There has been considerable change of ownership, but each year brings the circus back "bigger and better than ever before," but ever changing in its personnel, from the owners and riders, "kinkers" and "residents," to the dispersed hordes of boys and girls, who are the sedate mothers and fathers of today, to the circus proprietors themselves.

Two months more and the steam calliope and the plodding elephant and the great gold circus vases, with their blaring brass banals and wild animals, will beckon the way along the trail to the big top again. Despite the war, the circus men are printing and putting out for the most prosperous seasons they have ever enjoyed. Time and tide wait for no man, and the circus keeps right on with the procession. The old saying, "Largo and the world laughs at you; weep and you weep alone," holds for the circus probably more than any other human agency. More than likely Elizabeth Akers Allen was inspired by a circus to write her novel.

"Backward, turn backward, O time in your flight, Make me a child again, just for tonight!"

"Al" Ringling will not be with the circus until it swings out on the open road this spring. In the meantime Forepaugh, who walks squares these days to avoid the publicity which was heaped upon him in the old days, will be busy publicly in the seat, and live the past all over again. The crowds of happy children will come to enjoy the antics of the animals and the clowns—but behind the grease paint of a clown, will be a twitching of the cords in some one's face. For Al Ringling, or talks about the good old days.

No one is more qualified to talk about the circus—old and new—than George Hartzell, a clown, the "millionaire clown," son of a Philadelphia clergyman, owner of a college diploma, now director of clowns of the big Ringling shows, active in the fellowship of the clowns, the Elks and other fraternal organizations.

You remember Hartzell. If you are a circus "fan" you have seen him many times. "The millionaire clown" was the name of his first act, and he was in the circus business, and his nineteenth year as director of clowns with the Ringling Brothers. Hartzell is at his best as William Jennings Bryan. "He is making a great deal of a spit-bath" of the Boy Scouts of America, "plate," erstwhile secretary of state and exponent of peace, grape juice and chautauqua lectures. Once upon a

WOMAN'S PAGE

Heart and Home PROBLEMS

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I would like your advice about a matter that troubles me very much. I have been in the habit of talking to my friends on a neighbor's phone and she invited me to do so. I considered my neighbor very much of a friend, because she was so good to me. She is a widow, past sixty and I am only half that age. I am married and have six children. She has a married son of hers staying with her and he is an invalid. She goes out nursing and this son is always home. He is over forty and very fat. Sometimes when I used to phone I would stop and talk a few moments with him. The last time I used the phone I had my baby with me. The line was busy and I tried three times. Just when my mother came in. She was nursing at a neighbor's and saw me go into her house. After I was through she told me she didn't think much of me for coming to see her son, and that the neighbors were all talking. I felt very much insulted, but my conscience was as clear as the sun. Her son was always gentlemanly and respectful and I was under the impression that she was above such talk. What shall I do? What attitude should I take in the matter when I meet her? I am very sorry to have lost her friendship.

Perhaps you used your neighbor's phone more often than she liked to have you and, rather than tell you that it was annoying to her, she took it upon herself to make you feel uncomfortable in her home. Pay attention to the accusation; it was so ridiculous. Don't use your neighbor's phone again nor ask any favors of her, but when you see her and say hello, nothing disagreeable had happened. If you ever have an opportunity to do her a kindness, do it, because it will shame her more than anything else.

Marrying for Money

In Which All Ends Happily Despite Sorrows of the Recent Past.

"I could hardly wait to have you come and see how cozy we are," said Marian Townsend as she ushered Nell and Olive into the living room. "This room seemed very small at first because the one at the other house was so exceptional large, but, as I told Dudley, that was an advantage, for we want to get close together. It is only in a divided house that you need long corridors to soften harsh moods by putting distance enough between factions to keep the peace."

"You certainly are very cozy and comfortable here," said Nell, taking a seat by the baseburner. "I grew to love the cheerful glow of our stove and actually missed it when we built our new house."

"It has done a great deal to recreate the old cheerful atmosphere," said Marian softly. "Mother used to sit and rock me in the winter twilight and tell me stories. Those stories have all come back to my mind very clearly while I sat watching the red coals."

"No one realizes how memories are revived by old associations and furnishings until they have returned to them after a separation," remarked Olive.

"As I sit here and listen to Tupper moving about the kitchen I half expect to hear Daddy come up the walk, can't you persuade myself that all the heartbreak and trouble were a bad dream from which I had happily awakened and all is as it used to be?" The girl stealthily wiped her eyes.

"I am sure you will be happier here, dear, but we miss you, and the big empty house with the 'For Sale' card on it is not a good substitute for a good neighbor," said Nell, pretending not to notice the handkerchief.

"You are back in school, I hear. I suppose you will go on and graduate next June?" asked Olive.

"Yes, and after that I am to be a business woman. I am to help the boys in the store. It will save the expense of a clerk and we can the sooner get out of debt." The girl's face was bright and eager. "I shall feel that I am helping in earnest, of course."

"That will be fine," chorused the friends.

"I do not suppose you hear from Mrs. Townsend," remarked Nell. "Do you know where she is?"

"Of course we want to lose track of her at the earliest possible moment, but the lawyer happened to mention yesterday that she was living in Chicago with Adelaide Blake."

—By—
MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON
Letters may be addressed to
MRS. THOMPSON
In care of the Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I have been married several years. My husband loves me dearly and is very devoted to me and his home. I love him, too. He was raised in a Christian home and is a church member and a good moral man. In his selection of friends he enjoys the friendship of church people. He has asked me many times to go to church with him, but I have never gone. Many times I have made insulting remarks about the church and his friends, but he has said nothing. For some reason, I do not know why, I have always been prejudiced against church and church people. Perhaps it is because I was not raised in a Christian home. I have been worried for some time about this matter. I am a mother and I sometimes think I am not doing my duty toward my child by acting the way I do. Am I?

(2) What shall I do?

(3) What shall I say to my husband about the way I have treated him about this matter? I do admire his disposition.

(4) To do your duty to your child you should keep the relations between you and your husband as harmonious as possible. This cannot be possible while you are saying unkind things about his religion and his friends.

(5) Since you have no church of your own, go to your husband's. If you cannot believe as he does, keep it to yourself and don't make him unhappy by unpleasant remarks.

(6) Tell him that you think you have been in the wrong and that in the future you mean to try your best to be interested in the things that interest him. Say that you will go to church with him and send your child to Sunday school. Ask him to forgive you.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: My mother and father do not seem to like me. Is there any way I can gain their love? I am sixteen years old and I do not stay at home. I work for my room and board. I want so much to gain the love of my father and mother and brother and sister again. What shall I do?

Go to your mother, Peggy, and tell her that you love her and want to live at home again. If you have done something that your parents did not like, tell them you are sorry and want them to forgive you, and promise to follow their advice in the future.

the same Adelaide that visited here, I suppose. Probably she will not find life so dull there as she did at Fairport. Marian's voice had not lost its scornful tone when she spoke of Orville.

"I do not believe the woman corresponds with a single person there. It is strange that in over a year she did not make a single intimate friend," said Nell.

"To have friends one must show one's self friendly, and she was too bent on doing what pleased herself to consider anyone else," answered Olive.

"I told you about her last talk with me. I really think the woman is changed and will think a little more of other people in the future," Nell looked at Marian.

"Well, there was certainly room for improvement, but her repentance will not give us Daddy back again," said the girl sadly.

THE END.

Household Hints

THE SUNDAY DINNER.
Cream of Parsley Soup. Crackers.
Sliced Pickled Cucumbers.
Veal Breaded.
Sweet Potatoes, Southern Style.
Creamed Beets.
Apple and Celery Salad.
Orange Cake. Coffee.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.
To save carpet from wearing along the salverge, take black inch-wide brush and sew it lengthwise on both sides. It will last as long as the carpet does and makes it look nice.

To Clean Nickel on Stove—Five cents' worth ammonia, five cents' worth whiting and one pint of rain water. Rub over nickel with cloth. Let dry and polish with a clean, soft cloth. This makes nickel look like new.

To Care for a Range—Wash with warm water and soap. Wet a soft cloth with machine oil (or kerosene) and go over it twice a week. The same cloth can be used to wipe the top after each meal. Stove will never need blacking if cared for in this way.

For Children, From Two to Four Years Old—Take the small pieces of gingham like towel and cover with there will be a yard or a half yard left. Take small pieces, cut armholes as large as wanted, put little straps for shoulders and strings to tie in back. Tie and hem. The child will have a smock apron for morning wear; will keep the little ones clean and neat. Easily laundered and ready for them when wanted.

WHAT YOU CAN DO WITH SARDINES.
Spanish Sardines—Place squares of nicely toasted bread upon a serving dish, then on the toast place sardines, powder well with chili powder and sprinkle a thick layer of dry grated cheese over all. Place it hot oven until thoroughly heated.

Delicious Entree—Put a can of sardines in boiling water, let boil half an hour or until thoroughly heated. Remove from can. Place two fish on a platter, remove crust and toast. Place one or two of the fish on each strip of toast, pour some of the dressing from can upon each and arrange in circle on large platter. Fill the center of the dish with the sauce and garnish with watercress or olives. Make a thick Hollandaise sauce as follows:

Beat half cup butter to a cream, add yolks of two eggs, juice of half a lemon, one-half teaspoon salt, and a speck of pepper (cayenne), beat until it begins to thicken, then add scant half cup of boiling water, beating all the time.

Sardine Canapés—Take a can of sardines and chop fine, removing the bones and tail. Toast a piece of bread. First place a strip of tomatoes, half inch wide, across toast, fill in a like space with chopped sardines, then a strip of green pepper (after removing the seeds). Serve with mayonnaise at the side of the dish so as not to interfere with the appearance, which is made to look like the stripes of a flag.

THE TABLE.
Celery Soup—Four cups milk, one onion, two or three cups chopped celery. Cook together twenty minutes, put through sieve. Cook together three tablespoons melted butter and three level tablespoons flour until thick or boiling; add slowly one cup

HEALTH TALKS

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Letters may be addressed to Wm. A. BRADY, M. D., in care of the Gazette

CASTOR OIL FETCHISM

A mere phrase there is no more logical ground for the use of castor oil than the exceptions above quoted.

Reasons why castor oil is objectionable are many. First, it is such a horrid dose to take. However, some people do not mind taking it. Second, it always exerts a secondary binding effect upon the bowel, and therefore every dose creates a demand for more physic. Third, it has been scientifically determined that castor oil, like calomel, will cause the appearance of red blood corpuscles in the stools, which would seem to indicate that the stuff is not quite so soothing and healing as its advocates would have us believe. Because it is an oil, and apparently bland, is no criterion; cotton oil and oil of turpentine (spirits of turpentine) are oils, but by means bland in effect.

Aromatic syrup of rhubarb (U. S. P.), phenolphthalein, senna and figs, cascara, milk of magnesia, solution of citrate of magnesia and compound licorice powder will accomplish everything that castor oil could be expected to do, including the pink of youth on the victim's countenance.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Manifest Uses of Calomel
We no longer feel the same confidence in our family doctor writes a plain country woman. He prescribed one-half grain of calomel for our two-year-old baby.

Answer—Well, that was a very small dose, but mercury is nevertheless a very valuable remedy with manifold uses, and perhaps your doctor knows more than you. We about the baby's needs. A colloidal prescribed castor oil for our baby, and you bet we gave it.

More Eyestrain and More Wisdom
Speaking of glasses curing headaches, tried two opticians to no purpose. Then called up family doctor, asked him to refer me to an oculist. He said, "Sure, it's your eyes" Took him. No more headaches!

Thin Cream or Rich Milk. Add this to celery mixture, season with salt and pepper, cook all together and serve.
Ten-Minute Soup—One quart boiling water, three tablespoons tapioca and two of rice, salt and pepper to taste; let boil ten minutes. Have serving dish ready, and mix of three eggs, add lump of butter size of an egg, add three small spoonfuls of water to mix; stir quickly and when soup has cooked ten minutes pour boiling hot into serving dish over eggs and butter. Add one-fourth cup of hot beef broth for flavor.

Economy Chicken-Vegetable Soup—Take about three pints water, add chicken and bones left over from Monday dinner; put in stew kettle. Into another stew kettle put these ingredients: One small onion chopped fine, one onion cut into small squares, two tablespoons small white soup beans, three tablespoons rice, three of oatmeal. Cook until tender, then put into first stew kettle with chicken and add one-fourth cup of string beans, also the baby's needs. A colloidal prescribed castor oil for our baby, and you bet we gave it.

Chocolate Coffee Frosting—One cup confectionery sugar, one tablespoon vanilla, two tablespoons cocoa, two tablespoons cold coffee. Work this into a paste and spread on cake.

NATIONAL FLOWER SHOW HELD IN PHILADELPHIA

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)
Philadelphia, Pa., March 25.—The Fourth National Flower Show opened here today. When the doors of Convention hall swung wide the public gazed upon one of the greatest collections of new and rare flowers and plants ever gathered in America. Hundreds of exhibits of rare orchids, new roses and carnations, and the finest specimens of every sort in the horticultural and floral world from private estates and commercial and amateur growers were there.

Rich prizes, which now total nearly $25,000, are the magnets that brought the priceless specimens here. The flower show is international in scope, for by its awards the reputations of the new creations are established all over the world. In connection with the show the Garden Clubs of America will hold their convention. This event has brought many delegates from all sections of the country.

The National Flower Show is managed by the Society of American Florists and Ornamental Horticulturists. It is staged every three years and has been held in Boston, New York and Chicago.

SIDE TALKS

—By—
RUTH CAMERON

THE "COMMON" HABIT.

"Common" has lately become the favorite word of a little neighbor of mine. She uses it on all occasions to describe anything which offends a recently acquired exactness of taste.

Now this little person was a very nice little person once on a time, unafraid, enthusiastic, friendly. And then a sad thing happened: a group of girls from a class a little better off financially than her own took her up. Her head was turned, she became affected, biased in her manner (at seventeen), and has acquired that odious habit to which I referred, of constantly finding people and faces and gowns, and goodness knows what, too "common" to her taste.

Equivalent to a Turned Up Nose.
You know the way she says the word. It is equivalent to a turned-up nose in a less sophisticated person. Of course you have met people who have the "common" habit, and to conscience you hate it—and sometimes find yourself on the verge of hating them, too?

If I were a minister I would take the text from the lesson on the subject of religious snobishness, "What God hath cleansed that call not thou common," and preach a "hot sermon on it to this class of people."

As if it made a thing odious that it was common and nothing could be beautiful unless it were uncommon! Some of the Most Beautiful Things Common.

Why some of the commonest things of life are the most beautiful—things like plain, ordinary sunshine and roadside flowers and clouds and daisies and stars and snowflakes and green grass and a mother's love and human kindness and the first fluttering awakenings of sex love.

Why, then, the little person who calls everything she doesn't like "common" vaguely feels that she is elevating herself to an upper class by these distastes.

Poor, foolish little girl! she doesn't realize that the only upper class worth belonging to cannot be reached so easily and cheaply. The real aristocracy, the aristocracy of breeding in the finest sense of the word is only to be reached by the toilsome road of self-improvement and self-conquest.

Don't try to get into it by shutting other people out with the word "common."

WISCONSIN WOMEN SPEAK AT SUFFRAGE CONVENTION
Milwaukee, Wis., March 25.—The political situation in Wisconsin was discussed by Mrs. Henry M. Youmans, Waukegan, president of the state Equal Suffrage association, in speaking before the congressional conference of the organization here today.

Mrs. Ben Hooper of Oshkosh, chairman of the committee on congressional work, told of the efforts of the organization to procure desirable legislation in Wisconsin. Mrs. Allan Cole of Kenosha discussed the work which is being done in that district.

The morning session closed with a talk by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the national association. She spoke on the possibility of securing legislation desirable to the organization through congress.

ROMANCE OF NATURE IS CURE FOR DIVORCE SAYS VETERAN CLEVELAND SAILOR.
(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)
Cleveland, March 25.—There would be no divorce courts and more golden wedding anniversaries if men lived more in the open and brought home to their wives the romance that nature teaches them. That is the opinion of Captain Henry Breck, 72, and his wife Sarah Ann, 70, who have just celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. The captain still pilots a lake boat. He was a sailor at 18.

"Sailing the lakes cultivates romance," says Captain Breck. "If a man brings that romance home it supplies all the happiness of life. Fifty years wedded and sixty-five years lovers is our record."

Chinese Junks.
The Chinese junk is to most western eyes a curious not to say outlandish type of vessel. Yet a nautical authority in picturing and describing a famous craft of this kind which visited Europe and America as long ago as 1848 says that she proved herself an excellent sea boat, with powers of weathering a storm equal if not superior to vessels of western build. This junk, the Keying, is also declared to have made a run "equal to the time of the best packet ships of the period."

Information of this kind about foreign methods is often truly educative to Americans inclined to be boastful. Outlook.

You can own your own home easily by reading and acting on the offers contained in Gazette Want Ads.

A Perfect Complexion
Your social duties demand that you look your best in good taste at all times. Ladies of Society for nearly three-quarters of a century have used

Gouraud's Oriental Cream
To obtain the perfect complexion, it purifies and beautifies the skin. Ideal skin cream. Non-greasy, its use cannot be detected. Send 10c. for trial size.

FRED. T. HOPKINS & SON, New York City

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

A Pretty Figure

We can hear it as often said, "What a pretty figure!" "What a pretty figure!"—if you start the young girl with the right corset.

A Warner "Debutante" Model selected for the young girl will assist the form to develop gracefully and healthfully.

Do not attempt to fit a young girl to a model designed for a mature figure. Ask to see the new Warner "Debutante," made especially for the young girl.

Prices from $1.00 up. South Room.

You can have a Wealth of Lustrous Luxuriant Hair like Mine

BY THE USE OF
NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE
Destroys Dandruff - Stops Falling Hair

Bright, Scintillating, Luxuriant hair is within the reach of every girl and woman. It is all a matter of care and cultivation. No longer is it necessary for your hair to be dull, brittle, lusterless. A few applications of NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE will effect the most astonishing change. The hair will radiate health and beauty—its growth will be stimulated—it will show life, snap and lustre before unknown. Every particle of dandruff will disappear and the hair will cease to come out. The scalp will be clean and healthy and the itching instantly stop. Herpicide has a most exquisite odor and is a delight to use.

TAKE NO SUBSTITUTE - THERE IS NOTHING JUST AS GOOD

If your dealer does not have NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE, the Original Dandruff-Germ Remedy in stock, send direct to our laboratory for the genuine. A full 50c size bottle will be forwarded to you by mail, postage paid, together with an interesting booklet telling all about the care of the hair.

See Coupon

Sold and guaranteed at all toilet goods counters. Applications at the better barber shops.

J. F. BAKER, Special Agent.

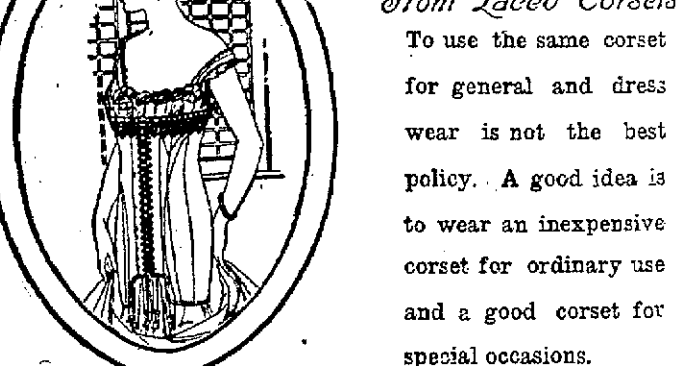

Mrs. Alice Longworth.

Mrs. Alice Longworth, daughter of former President Roosevelt, is again a commanding figure in the national capital's society. Mrs. Longworth, whose latest portrait is shown here, returned to Washington with her husband, Congressman Longworth of Ohio, when he was elected and has taken up her old position of prominence in the social ranks.

THE GOLDEN EAGLE

LEVY'S

Frolaset
Frö La Say
Front Laced Corsets
To use the same corset for general and dress wear is not the best policy. A good idea is to wear an inexpensive corset for ordinary use and a good corset for special occasions.

A Frolaset for $2.50

We carry the Frolaset in models as high as $10.00, yet we are just as enthusiastic about the moderate priced models. Every Frolaset possesses that touch of style that appeals to the smartly dressed woman.

DOINGS OF THE VAN LOONS—Yes, Father Pulls Off a Good One Occasionally

BY E. LEITCH

INSIDE THE LINES

By EARL DERR BIGGERS
AND
ROBERT WELLES RITCHIE
Founded on Earl Derr Biggers' Play of the Same Name

Another weary hour for the ferret on the wall, then something happened that was reward enough for cramped muscles and taut nerves. An automobile pulled up to the gate, out of it hopped a man, while a third, tilted over like one drunk, remained on the rear seat of the tonneau. One rang the bell. The two before the gate, fidgeted anxiously for it to be opened. Captain said not so much as head to them as to the half-reclining figure in the machine. It was in strong light, Capper saw, with a leap of his heart, that the man in the machine was dressed in the khaki uniform of the British army—an officer's uniform he judged by the trimness of its fitting, though he could not see the shoulder straps. The unconscious man was bunched, and one side of his face was darkened by a broad trickle of blood from the scalp.

When the gate opened, there were a few hurried words between the Numidian and the two who had waited. All three united in lifting an inert figure from the car and carrying it quickly through the gate. Consumed with the desire to follow them into the labyrinth of the door, Capper yet not daring, Capper remained plastered to the wall.

Captain Woodhouse, sitting in the car, with the doctor, heard the front door open and the scuffle of hurried feet in the hall. Doctor Koch hopped nimbly to the folding doors and threw them back. Then, the Numidian's broad back, then, the bent shoulders of two other men, both fully dressed, came in view. Between them they carried the form of a man in officer's khaki. Woodhouse could not check a fluttering of the muscles of his cheeks; this was a surprise to him; the doctor had given no hint of it.

"Good—good," chuckled Koch, indicating that they should lay their burden on the operating chair. "Any trouble?"

"None in the least, Herr Doktor," the larger of the two white men answered. "At the corner of the warehouse near the docks, where it is dark—he was going early to the Princess Mary, and—"

"Yes, a tap on the head—so?" Koch broke in, casting a quick glance toward where Captain Woodhouse had risen from his seat. A shrewd, appraising glance it was, which was not lost on Woodhouse. He stepped forward to join the physician by the side of the figure on the operating chair.

"Our man, Doctor?" he queried casually.

"Your name sponsor," Koch answered, with a satisfied chuckle. "The original Captain Woodhouse of his regiment's signal service, formerly stationed at Wady Halfa. If you were in English, Doctor Koch clapped him on the shoulder.

"Perfect, man! You do the Englishman from the book. It will fool them all."

Woodhouse shrugged his shoulders in repudiation. Koch cackled on, as he began to lay out sponge and gauze bandages on the glass-topped table by the operating chair.

"You see, I did not tell you of this because—well, that fellow Capper's coming last night looked bad; even your explanation did not altogether convince me. So I thought we'd have this little surprise for you. If you were an Englishman you'd show it in the face of this—you couldn't help it. Eh?"

"Possibly not," the captain vouchsafed. "But what is your plan, Doctor? What are you going to do with this Captain Woodhouse to insure his being out of the way while I am in Gibraltar? I hope no violence—unless necessary."

"Nothing more violent than a violent headache and some fever," Koch answered. He was busy fumbling in the unconscious man's pockets. From the breast pocket of the uniform jacket he withdrew a wallet, glanced at its contents, and passed it to the captain.

"Your papers, Captain—the papers of transfer from Gibraltar. Money. We'll have to take that, also, to make appearances perfect—robbery following the assault on the wharves."

Woodhouse pocketed the military papers in the wallet and laid it down, the money untouched. The two white aids of Doctor Koch, who were standing by the folding doors, eyed the while, but said nothing. Koch, meanwhile, had slipped off the jacket from the Englishman and was rolling up the right sleeve of his shirt. He did so, he brought down from the top of the glass instrument case a wooden rack containing several test tubes, he lifted out of the rack and squirted at it clouded contents against the light.

"A very handy little thing—very handy," Koch was talking to himself as much as to Woodhouse. "A white little product of the Nam Niam country down in Belgian Congo. Natives think no more of it than they would of a water fly's bite; but the white man is—"

"The action is very quick, and may be violent," he continued. "Our friend here won't recover consciousness for three days, and he will be unable to stand on his feet for two weeks at least—dizziness, incoherent fever, clouded memory; he'll be pretty sick."

"But not too sick to communicate with others," Woodhouse suggested. "Surely."

"Maybe not too sick, but unable to communicate with others," Doctor Koch interrupted, with a booming laugh. "This time tomorrow night our friend will be well out on the Libyan Desert, with some ungentle Bedouins for company. He's bound for Fezzan—and it will be a long way home without money. Who knows? Maybe three months."

Very deftly Koch bound up the abrasion on the Englishman's arm with gauze, explaining as he worked that the man's desert guardians would have instructions to remove the bandages before he recovered his faculties. There would be nothing to tell the luckless prisoner more than that he had been kidnapped, robbed and carried away by a band of nomads, a not uncommon occurrence in lower Egypt. Koch completed his work by directing his aids to strip off the rest of the unconscious man's uniform and clothe him in a nondescript civilian garb that Caesar brought into the consulate room from the mysterious upper regions of the house.

"Excellent," Captain Woodhouse of the signal service, the smiling doctor exclaimed when the last button of the misty jacket had been slipped into its buttonhole, "and enter Captain Woodhouse of the Wilhelmstrasse. Turning, he bowed humorously to the Englishman beside him. He nodded his head at Caesar; the latter dived into a cupboard at the far end of the room and brought out a squat flask and a glass. When the liquor had been poured, Doctor Koch lifted his glass and squinted through it with the air of a seer.

"Gentlemen, we drink to what will happen soon on the Rock of Gibraltar!" All downed the toast gravely. Then the master of the house jerked on the operating chair the unconscious man, the two white men lifted the limp body and started with it to the door. Doctor Koch preceding them to open the door, the muffled chug-chugging of the auto at the gate sounded almost at once.

The doctor and Number Nineteen Thirtieth remained together in the consultation room for a few minutes, going over in final review, the plans that the latter was to put into execution at the great English stronghold on the Rock. The captain looked at the clock, found the hour late, and arose to depart. Doctor Koch accompanied him to the gate and bade him for a minute under the strong light from the near-by arc.

"You go direct to the Princess Mary," he said. "Direct to the Princess Mary," the other answered. "She is to sail at five o'clock."

"On—your great adventure, my friend, clasped hands, and the gate closed behind the doctor."

A shadow skipped from the top of the wall about the major's house across the courtyard, dogged the footsteps of the tall, well-stocked man who strode down the deserted Queen's Terrace toward the tiled station an hour later, the same shadow flitted up the gangplank of the Princess Mary at her berth. When the big P. & O. liner pulled out at dawn, she carried among her saloon passengers one registered as C. C. Woodhouse, Capt. Sig. Service, and in her second cabin a "William Capper."

CHAPTER VI.
A FUGITIVE.

"No, madam does not know me; but she must see me. Oh, I know she will see me. Tell her please, it is a girl who needs help, alone in Paris."

The butler looked again at the card the visitor had given him. Quick suspicion flashed into his tired eyes—the same suspicion that had all Paris mad.

"Gerson—Mademoiselle Gerson. That name, excuse me if I say it—that name ees—"

"Sounds German; yes. Haven't I heard that told me a thousand times these last few days? The girl's shoulders drooped limply, and she tried to smile, but somehow failed. But it's my name, and I'm an American—been an American twenty-two years. Please—please!"

"Madam the ambassador's wife; she ees overwhelmed viz work." The butler gave the door an insinuating push. Jane Gerson's patent-leather boot stopped it. She made a quick rummage in her bag, and when she withdrew her hand, a bit of bank paper crinkled in it. The butler pocketed the note with a peevish frown, and Jane, in formal thanks, smiled at the door. She dropped on a skin covered couch, utterly spent. Hours she had passed lying, foot by foot, in an interminable room, up to a little wicket in a steamship office, only to be told, "Gerson's boat's sold out."

Other grilling hours she had passed similarly before the express office, to find, at last, that the little paper booklet of checks was as worthless as a steamship ticket. Food even lacked, because the money she offered was not acceptable. For a week she had lived in the seething, barred, buffeted Paris in war time, peddling a chin on the froth of madness. This day, the third of August, remained Jane Gerson summoning the last supreme endeavor. Upon her visit to the embassy depended everything; her safety, the future she was battling for. But now, with the first barrier passed, she found herself suddenly faint and weak.

"Madam the ambassador's wife will see you. Come!" The butler's voice sounded from afar off, though Jane saw the gleaming buckles at his knees very close. The pounding of her heart almost choked her as she rose to follow him. Down a long hall and into a richly furnished drawing-room, now strangely transformed by the presence of desks, filing cabinets and busy girl stenographers; the click of typewriters and rustle of papers gave the air of an office at top pressure. The butler showed Jane to a couch near the portieres and withdrew. From the tangle of desks at the opposite end of the room, a woman with a kindly face crossed, with hand extended. Jane rose, grasped the hand and squeezed convulsively.

"You are—"

"Yes, my dear, I am the wife of the ambassador. Be seated and tell me all your troubles. We are pretty busy here, but not too busy to help—it we can."

Jane looked into the sympathetic eyes of the ambassador's wife, and what she said and there was like a draft of water to her parched soul. The elder woman, smiling down into the white face, wherein the large brown eyes looked unnaturally bright, saw a trembling of the lips instantly conquered by a railing will, and she patted the small hand hearteningly.

"Dear lady," Jane began, almost as a little child, "I must get out of Paris, and I've come to you for help. Every way is closed except through you."

"So many hundreds like you, poor girl! All want to get back to the home country. This is my one chance to help every one." The lady of the embassy thought, as she cast a swift glance over the slender shoulders and dimly gleaming hair of the woman, that here, indeed, was a babe in the woods. The blatant, self-assured tourist demanding assistance from her country's representative as a right she knew; also the shifty, sly-eyed demi-verge who wanted no questions asked. But such a one as this little person—

"Jane, I am a buyer for Hildebrand's store in New York," Jane was saying, passionately to the heart of her country. "This is my very first trip as buyer, and it will be my last unless I can get through the lines and back to New York. I have seventy of the very last gowns from Poiret, from Paquin and Worth—you know what they will mean in the old town back home—and I must—just simply must get them through. You understand? With them, Hildebrand can crow over every other gown shop in New York. He can be supreme and I will be—well, I will be made!"

The kindly eyes were still smiling, and the woman's heart, which is unchantered even in the case of an ambassador's wife, was leaping to the magic lure of that simple word—gowns.

"But—but the banks refuse to give me a cent on my letter of credit. The express office says my checks, which I brought along for incidentals, cannot be cashed. The steamship company will not sell a berth in the steerage, even out of Havre or Antwerp or Southampton—everything is booked. You can't get trunks on an aeroplane, or I'd try that. I just don't know where to turn, and so I've come to you. You must know some way out."

Jane unconsciously clasped her hands in supplication, and upon her face, flushed now with the warmth of pleading, was the dawning of hope. It was as if the girl were assured that once the ambassador's wife heard her story, by some magic she could solve the difficulties. The old woman read this trust, and was touched by it.

"Have you thought of catching a boat at Gibraltar?" she asked. "They are not so crowded; people haven't begun to rush out of Italy yet."

"But nobody knows my letter of credit," Jane mourned. "And besides, all the trains south of Paris are given up to the mobilization. Nobody can ride on them but soldiers."

The lady of the embassy knitted her brows for a few minutes while Jane anxiously scanned her face. Finally she spoke:

"The ambassador knows a gentleman—a large hearted American gentleman here in Paris who has promised his willingness to help in deserving cases by advancing money on letters of credit. And with money there is a way—just a possible way—of getting to Gibraltar. Leave your letter of credit with me, my dear, go to the police station in the district where you live and get your pass through the lines, just as a precaution against the possibility of your being able to leave tonight. Then come back here and see me at four o'clock. Perhaps—just a chance."

Hildebrand's buyer seized the hands of the embassy's lady ecstatically, tumbling words of thanks crowding to her lips. When she went out into the street, the sun was shining as it had not shone for her for a dreary terrible week.

At seven o'clock that night a big Roman-nosed automobile, long and low and powerful as a torpedo on wheels, pulled up at the door of the American embassy. Two bulky esker baskets were strapped on the back of its tonneau; in the rear seat, with sharp, shrewd face—an American sat behind the wheel.

The door of the embassy opened, and Jane Gerson, swathed in white and with a grey duster buttoned tight about her, danced out; behind her followed the ambassador, the lady of the embassy and a bevy of girls; the volunteer aids of the overworked representative staff. Jane's arms went about the ambassador's wife in an impulsive hug of gratitude and good-by; the ambassador received a hearty handshake for his "God speed" and waving of hands and fluttering of handkerchiefs, and the car leaped forward. Jane Gerson leaned far over the back and, through cupped hands, she shouted: "I'll paint Hildebrand's sign on the Rock of Gibraltar!"

Over bridges and through outlying fountains sped the car until the Barrier was gained. Three crossed bayonets denying passage, an officer with a pocket flash passing over pass and passport, a curt dismissal, and once more the motor purred its speed song, and the lights of the road flashed by. More picket lines, more sprouting of lights upon official signatures, the shoulders of the great outer forts, squatting like huge fighting beasts of the night, ready to spring upon the invader. Bugles sounded; the white arms of search-lights swung back and forth across the arc of night in their ceaseless causticities; a murmuring and stamping of many men and beasts was everywhere.

And the Worst Is Yet To Come

The ultimate picket line gained and passed, the car leaped forward with the bound of some freed animal, its twin headlights feeling far ahead the road to the south. Behind Jane, ahead, where the continent is splashed down with a rock, Gibraltar. Beyond that safe haven from this madness of the millions—America.

Jane Gerson stretched out her arms to the vision and laughed shrilly.

(To be continued.)

The Sun's Heat.
The sun will continue to give out its present amount of heat for 30,000,000 years.

MRS. VANDERBILT IN NEW SPORT COSTUME

Sport costumes are the rule at Palm Beach, and one of the most correct is worn by Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., of New York. Despite its conventional cut, an old style note in the coat which buttons only on the collar and belt gives it distinction. The material is a good kind of wool jersey of angora fiber.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The Janesville Daily Gazette, March 25, 1876.—There is a rumor that Mr. Purse, formerly of this city, now in Chicago, will bring back a stock of hardware to this city for sale.

The gas man in Oshkosh is in trouble. Our article the other day on cheap gas in this city is drawing out a lively discussion in that city.

Quite a number had a contest with the beautiful snow this morning in removing it from the sidewalks, where in many cases it was knee deep.

The republican ward caucuses will take place on Monday evening. Every loyal republican should arrange his business so that he can be able to attend.

Hon. H. H. Dodd, ex-mayor of Fond du Lac, was in the city yesterday, and made a good speech at the railway station last night. His remarks were listened to with a great deal of attention.

Night before last, burglars broke into the residence of Rev. T. P. Swan and, we understand, were successful in making away with a coat and vest. Nothing else, we believe, was taken. Like the home of an editor, a minister's home would be a poor place to find money.

"Are you sure, Tommy," she said, "that you're only nine years old?"

"Certainly I'm sure," said Tommy, and he called.

"Mother, ain't I just nine?"

"Yes, so, just," his mother answered.

The flattered lad looked up at the book agent's wife in the burr and said:

"What made you think I was more than nine?"

"Why," she replied, laughing, "I couldn't believe you could possibly get so dirty in nine years."

The Sort.
"You looked very sympathetic when Mrs. Jagers was talking to you. Was she telling you a moving story?"

"I should say so. She's been in six houses in as many months."—Half more American.

A word to the wise—to those who advertise. Use want ads every day; our word for it, they'll surely pay.

American Steel Posts
LAST A LIFE TIME

CHEAPER THAN WOOD
AND MORE DURABLE

THEY PROTECT STOCK
FROM LIGHTNING

NO STAPLES
ARE REQUIRED

Will Not BURN
RUST
ROT

STEEL POSTS ARE
LABOR SAVING
REQUIRE LITTLE WORK
TO DRIVE THEM

WOOD POSTS
REQUIRE HEAVY
MANUAL LABOR
TO SET THEM

WEEEDS AND INSECTS
THAT DESTROY THE
CROPS—CAN BE
BURNED FROM
FENCE ROWS

WEEEDS AND INSECTS
THAT DESTROY THE
CROPS—CAN BE
BURNED FROM
FENCE ROWS

For Sale by
SHELDON HARDWARE COMPANY

How to Make Want Ads Pay

Example No. 21

How to Give Want Ads Reply-Getting Power

Some Want Ads never excite interest. They are too weak. For the sake of being modest, do not take the snap and ginger out of your Want Ads.

Here are examples of Want Ads with and without reply-getting power.

THE OVER-MODEST WANT AD
WANTED—MEN AND WOMEN to sell my new Household Book of Hints. Agents can make good money and secure choice territory. For particulars, reply to _____

THE SNAFFY WANT AD
$5 TO $12 DAILY PROFIT SELLING my new "Household Book of Hints." Filled with a thousand ways to do things better at less cost. Smith of Illinois made $68 in one week. Jones of Ohio made $212.50 in one month. A few more testimonials in all states. It is going fast. Answer TODAY!

Which Want Ad would you answer?

ACHES AND PAIN
Don't neglect a pain anywhere, but find out what causes it and conquer the cause. A pain in the kidney region may put you on your back tomorrow. Don't blame the weather for swollen feet, it may be an advanced warning of Bright's disease. A pain in the stomach may be the first symptom of appendicitis. A creak in joint may be the forerunner of rheumatism. Chronic headaches more than likely warn you of serious stomach trouble. The best way is to keep in good condition day in and day out by regularly taking GOLD MEDAL HAARLEM OIL Capsules. Sold by reliable druggists. Money refunded if they do not help you. Beware of substitutes. The only pure imported Haarlem Oil Capsules are the GOLD MEDAL.

Stir People to Action
If you were to deliver a lecture, you would want to keep your audience interested and aroused. Your Want Ad is simply a photograph of your thoughts and words.

Remember that no matter how many persons read your Want Ad, you will get replies or calls from only those who care about what you say.

The way you write your Want Ad is very important. Be self-assertive and replies will come your way.

Be just as forceful when you interview the persons who reply to your Want Ad, and you will sell them your goods, or get them interested in your plan of business.

Put the punch in your words, and
The Want Ad
Is a Magnet!

In the Churches

First Baptist Church.
Baptist church.—Corner of Jackson and Pleasant streets. Rev. C. Hazen, pastor.
Sunday school.—9:45. John C. Hansen, superintendent. A class for children.
Worship.—10:30. Sermon on "The Purpose of Prayer."
Youth society.—2:30, for boys and girls.
Miss Bowman, superintendent.
People's society.—6:30. Sub-committee on "The Purpose of Prayer."
Lecturer of Chicago, missionary speaking school.
Evening service.—7:30. Subject: "The Purpose of Prayer." Music by the choir. Everyone invited.
Ladies' Aid society.—Tuesday evening.

Central United Church.
Central United church.—Rev. Chas. E. Hazen, pastor.
Sunday school.—9:45. John C. Hansen, superintendent. A class for children.
Worship.—10:30. Sermon on "The Purpose of Prayer."
Youth society.—2:30, for boys and girls.
Miss Bowman, superintendent.
People's society.—6:30. Sub-committee on "The Purpose of Prayer."
Lecturer of Chicago, missionary speaking school.
Evening service.—7:30. Subject: "The Purpose of Prayer." Music by the choir. Everyone invited.
Ladies' Aid society.—Tuesday evening.

United Brethren Church.
United Brethren church.—Rev. Chas. E. Hazen, pastor.
Sunday school.—9:45. John C. Hansen, superintendent. A class for children.
Worship.—10:30. Sermon on "The Purpose of Prayer."
Youth society.—2:30, for boys and girls.
Miss Bowman, superintendent.
People's society.—6:30. Sub-committee on "The Purpose of Prayer."
Lecturer of Chicago, missionary speaking school.
Evening service.—7:30. Subject: "The Purpose of Prayer." Music by the choir. Everyone invited.
Ladies' Aid society.—Tuesday evening.

First Presbyterian Church.
First Presbyterian church.—Rev. Chas. E. Hazen, pastor.
Sunday school.—9:45. John C. Hansen, superintendent. A class for children.
Worship.—10:30. Sermon on "The Purpose of Prayer."
Youth society.—2:30, for boys and girls.
Miss Bowman, superintendent.
People's society.—6:30. Sub-committee on "The Purpose of Prayer."
Lecturer of Chicago, missionary speaking school.
Evening service.—7:30. Subject: "The Purpose of Prayer." Music by the choir. Everyone invited.
Ladies' Aid society.—Tuesday evening.

St. Peter's English Lutheran Church.
St. Peter's English Lutheran church.—Rev. E. O. Hoffmeister, M. A., pastor.
Sunday school.—9:45 a. m.
Worship.—11:00 a. m.
Lenten service Thursday evening at 7:30.

Trinity Episcopal Church.
Trinity Episcopal church.—Rev. H. W. Williams, rector.
Sunday in Lent.
Holy communion.—7:30 a. m.
Sunday school.—9:30 a. m.
Holy communion and sermon.—10:30 a. m.
Evangelical and sermon.—4:30 p. m.
Monday—Meeting of Women's auxiliary at home of Mrs. George Richards, 502 Lexington street, 2:30 p. m., followed by cottage meeting.
Tuesday—Holy communion, 9:00 a. m.
Wednesday—Evangelical and sermon, 4:30 p. m.
Thursday—Holy communion, 7:30 a. m.
Friday—Evangelical, 4:30 p. m.
Saturday—Holy communion, 9:00 a. m.

First Christian Church.
First Christian church.—Corner of Milburn and Academy streets. Clark T. Cummings, minister.
Sunday school.—10:00 a. m.
Christian Endeavor.—6:30 p. m.
Evening worship.—7:30 p. m.
Prayer meeting, Thursday.—7:30 p. m.
"Christian Stewardship" is the subject of the morning sermon. "The Ordinances of the Church" is the evening subject.
Rev. Drake will lead the prayer meeting, the coming week.
Men's chorus meets Thursday evening at prayer meeting.
Girls' chorus meets Thursday afternoon.

Christian Science Church.
First Church of Christ, Scientist. Church edifice, 323 Pleasant street.
Sunday.—10:30 a. m.
Sunday school.—12 m.
Wednesday.—7:45 p. m.
School of lesson-sermon Sunday: 10:30 a. m. Reading room, 502 Jackson street, open daily except Sundays and holidays from 12 m. to 5 p. m.

Cargill M. E. Church.
Morning worship.—10:30. Sermon on "More Than These."
Sunday school.—12 m. Installation of Sunday school officers and teachers.
Junior league.—3:30.
Epworth League.—6:30. Topic: "Our New Work Ought Our League to Undertake." Rev. Brigham, leader.
Evening worship.—7:30. Shop and factory night. Topic: "The Master Carpenter." Guests of honor all employers and employees in shops or factories.
Afternoon-parlor meetings, Tuesday and Friday, at 8:00.
Monday and Thursday, 7:30. Union Lenten meetings.

St. Patrick's Church.
St. Patrick's Roman Catholic church.—Corner of Cherry and Holmes streets. Dean E. E. Reilly, pastor.
Rev. Wm. Mahoney, assistant pastor.
Mass.—7:30 a. m., second mass, 9:00 a. m., last mass, 10:30 a. m., vespers, 7:30 p. m.

St. Mary's Church.
St. Mary's Roman Catholic church. Mass.—8:30 a. m., second mass, 10:00 a. m., vespers, 7:30 p. m.
Rev. Wm. Goebel, pastor.

ENGLISH ARE BEGINNING TO THINK THEY ARE WEARING SHOES MADE IN GERMANY
London, March 25.—The English people are beginning to believe that they are wearing shoes made of German leather through the fact that some of their shoes are imported from Switzerland where the manufacturers are known to use large quantities of German leather. Their suspicions were recently confirmed by the fact that the imports of shoes from Switzerland during February were nearly double those of the corresponding period of 1917. Information was given in the house of parliament today that the use of German leather to the extent of 25 per cent in shoes imported from Switzerland is forbidden.

Not Indulging.
Youth—Love is intoxicating.
Old Bach—Pipes the water wagon.
Bach Transcript.

Every Reader May Have This

NEW Dictionary of To-day's English

New and Authoritative

ACKNOWLEDGED authorities from the great seats of learning have been brought together to make this dictionary an absolute authority—with ALL the NEW words and the correct pronunciations.

The American takes great pride in presenting to its readers this new inventory of to-day's English.

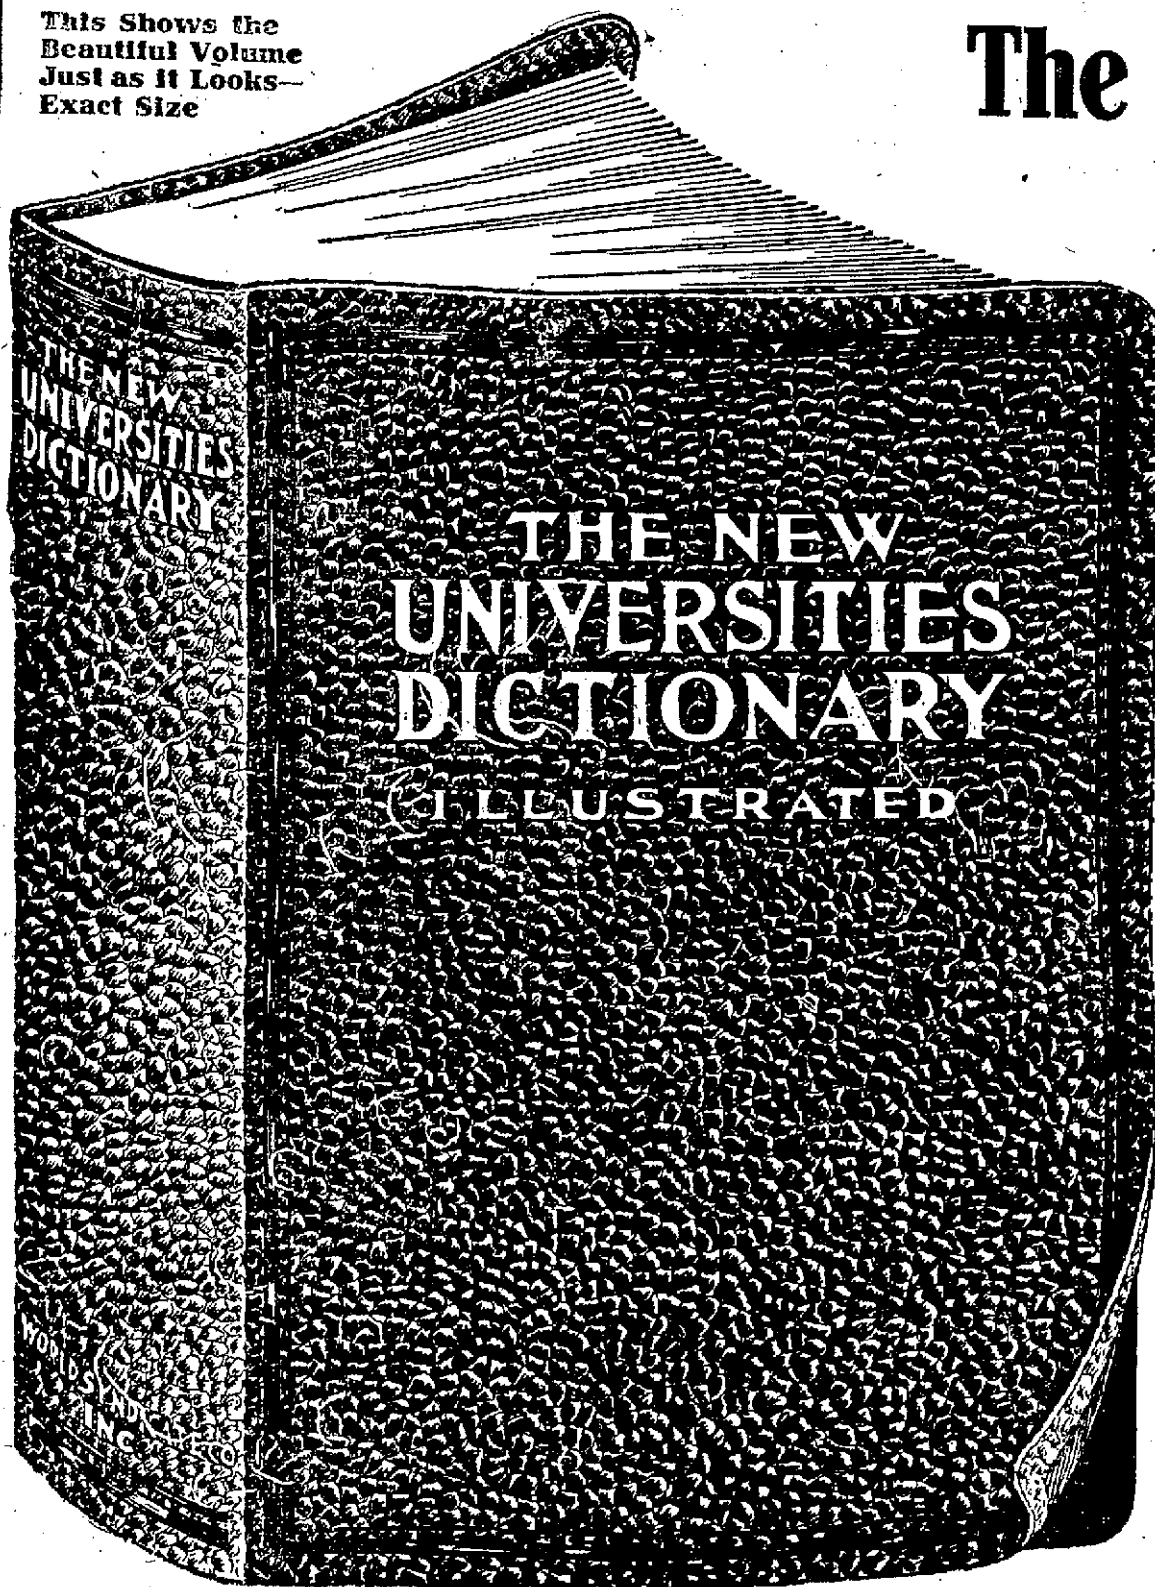

This is more than a dictionary, for it contains twenty-five supplementary dictionaries, placing thousands of new words within quick and easy access of all workers in every line.

Every page alive—every line up-to-date. Full of useful information needed daily.

CLEAN AS WELL AS NEW

A DICTIONARY, not only new but clean—all vulgar and obscene words being omitted—nothing coarse, nothing offensive, yet contains all English words in general and proper use today.

This Shows the Beautiful Volume Just as It Looks—Exact Size

The Janesville Gazette

FIRST in everything is FIRST to lend aid along advanced educational lines by now offering this NEW dictionary for the benefit of its readers. Newspapers are acknowledged "public educators" and it is indeed most fitting that this LATEST dictionary should find its way to the public through newspapers, on the popular coupon plan.

Made for the People

The editor says: "Designed to meet the demand among the masses of the people for a dictionary that shall be complete in its vocabulary, accurate in its definitions, and contain the LATEST and NEWEST words whose general usage warrants their incorporation into a dictionary made primarily for the people,

HERE are but a few distinctive and exclusive features of this new, correct and authentic dictionary.

List of Americanisms
Dictionary of Yachting
Forms of Address
How to Become Naturalized
Aviation Terms
Dictionary of Photography
Commerce and Law
Military and Naval Terms
Automobile Glossary
How to Get a Patent
Baseball Expressions Dictionary of Music
Wireless Telegraphy Terms
Copyright Instructions
How to Use the Mails
Evolution of English
How to Get a Copyright
Dictionaries of Lacrosse, Football, Golf, Tennis and much more information needed daily that cannot be found in ANY other ONE volume.

It Is Just Off The Press

Newly Edited...

Newly Printed...

Bound in beautiful flexible leather, lettered in gold; rounded corners; red edges; profusely illustrated; contains 1300 pages, printed on special paper from new type; strong and durable; accurate and complete. Necessary in home and office.

AUTHORITATIVE

Authoritative means "coming from due authority"; "entitled to obedience, credit or acceptance"; "determinative"; "commanding." Thus the New Universities Dictionary, with strength contributed by teachers of English in Pennsylvania, Cornell, Princeton, Columbia and Harvard Universities, "comes from due authority," is "entitled to obedience and acceptance." An old dictionary with a new name has no value.

The New Universities Dictionary Was Edited, Compiled and Printed This Year

READ THIS PARTIAL LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS:

GEORGE J. HAGAN, Editor-in-Chief.
Associate reviser of the following well-known encyclopedias: People's, Columbia, New Standard, Americana, New International, New Standard, Standard American, Everybody's; compiler of Chronology of the World in New Standard Dictionary; editor of Harper's Encyclopedia of United States History.

ASSOCIATES:

PROF. PERCY W. LONG, Ph.D.,
Department of English,
Harvard University
PROF. FORREST S. LUNT, M.A.,
Instructor of English,
Columbia University
PROF. CLARK E. NORTHRUP, Ph.D.,
Department of English,
Cornell University
PROF. MORRIS W. CROLL, Ph.D.,
Department of English,
Princeton University
PROF. JOHN C. ROLFE, Ph.D.,
Department of Latin,
University of Pennsylvania

Highest Ranking American Scholars Give It Standing Above All Other Dictionaries

HOW TO GET IT

Three Coupons from this paper and 98c

Get this new, authoritative dictionary, bound in flexible leather.

TWENTY-FIVE DICTIONARIES IN ONE

MAIL ORDERS

Out of town readers include cost of postage and packing as explained in coupon.

TO-DAYS COUPON ON WANT AD PAGE

This Volume Profuse in Color

Among the subjects illustrated in magnificent colors are Birds, Fish, Fruits and Flowers, all in their natural colorings and artistically executed by the latest processes.

Here is a Partial List of the Splendid Doodles:

Aeroplanes
Auto Fire Engine
Battleships
Canadian Scenes
Dogs, Types of Horses, Types of Locomotives, Types of Naval Guns
Ocean Liner "Imperator"
Panama Canal
Panoramic View of New York City
Photography
Polo
Printing Press, Double Octuple
Pulmotor
Sheep Raising in the West
Silk Culture at Broussa, Turkey
Spinning Mill
Stamp Printing Press
Submarine
Turbine Engine
Wireless Telegraphy
Zeppelin and Spies Airships

ATTITUDE OF TAFT PRAISED BY USHER

SHOWS NO DISPOSITION TO EM-BARRASS PRESIDENT WITH CARPING CRITICISM.

CHANCE FOR SOCIALIST

Milwaukee Socialists Have Excellent
Show to Defeat Non-partisans at Coming Election.

(By Ellis B. Usher.)
Milwaukee, Wis., March 25.—The President Taft was in Milwaukee last week, to deliver an address on St. Patrick's day, and as the army was still moving toward Mexico, the city was very much interested in the visit of the president. The president was very frank and free. It was notable that there was no criticism of the president and that he, as was natural, fully realized the serious situation of the Mexican problem, and was not seeking opportunity to embarrass this government by talking politics. Mr. Taft has grown steadily in the esteem of the American people, and his dignified, candid, good humor, and patriotism of his conduct and speech since he became a private citizen. There is many a voter in the country, today, who voted for Taft, who will cast his first vote for Wilson, this year.

It is to be regretted that Mr. Roosevelt, with his marvelous opportunity to lead America's government as a private citizen, and be accorded all deference, has forever lost that enviable influence. It is worthy of profound attention that Mr. Roosevelt's first steps toward forgetting the war were taken in criticism of President Taft. Later he has made himself equally distasteful to his countrymen by sweeping criticism of the war. In great and flattering contrast with such assumption of superior wisdom and patriotism, has been the serene and serious advice of Mr. Taft, to his countrymen, whenever the war skies have darkened, to stand by their president and think only of the honor of their government and its flag. He has diluted this lofty and statesman-like advice with no aid of personal suggestion. He has therefore spoken with wisdom and with great authority. Whatever the differences may have been between Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt, the former has left the war carping criticism to his one time friend, and taken a place in the hearts of the people, worthy of the best traditions of ex-presidents. Mr. Roosevelt, so promoted Mr. Roosevelt's importance as a candidate this year, as his equally unreasonable attitude toward both his successors. He insists upon making politics of the war, and the thoughts and expresses the intense patriotism of real Americans.

May Elect Socialist.
No one was surprised in the recent municipal primaries when City Attorney Daniel W. Hoan and Mayor Gerhart A. Bading were the two successful candidates in the race for the mayoralty nomination. It did not surprise many, at that, when it was announced that the Socialist nominee, Hoan, had polled more votes than his nearest non-partisan competitor, Bading, and that the total Socialist vote for the mayoralty nomination was a great deal of agitation between now and the election on April 4th will arouse the non-partisan voters, who for many years have been the primaries, to do so on the last day. They do not turn out, it takes no prophet to see that the Socialist will be elected. The local newspapers, with one exception, as in past campaigns, are united on the subject and if it were not so serious a question, it would be laughable to see them all uniting in one grand "hallelujah" chorus to applaud the non-partisan voters. The racial issue is being carefully avoided by all candidates and their supporters. Bading and Hoan both speak of real Americanism and each claims that he is the true exponent of the stars and stripes and of Democratic government. Perhaps they both remember the Chicago mayoralty campaign in which one candidate was rumored to be backed by the non-partisan element and, as a result, was defeated by the largest majority ever polled in Chicago.

First Report on Sheboygan.
The first reports of the future raised by the School Board at Sheboygan over General Charles E. King's address on preparedness before the high school students of that city were that some of the board of education and members of the board of education were in unmeasured terms. Now it is claimed that these statements were misrepresented. It is said that the board censured the principal of the school and the Sheboygan Chamber of Commerce for securing any one to lecture without their consent or knowledge, and did not make remarks tending to disparage General King's character and sincerity. As often in the past, cases of this kind, the whole matter is clouded with denials and contradictions, but it seems to me that some one made a hasty remark or two, which showed his real feelings and then crawled to cover when he found he had "put his foot in it." No one denies that any school board can control the entertainments of its pupils, whose welfare they have in charge, but that doesn't seem to have been the point first raised at Sheboygan.

Lansing Next President.
Robert Lansing will be the next president of the United States. He will hold office for a few minutes over twenty-four hours. He will then retire in favor of the newly elected executive. This will occur on March 4th and 5th, 1917, no matter what the result of the presidential election. This is the first time a president's term has expired coincidentally with the session of congress, on an inauguration day that is a Sunday. There will be no inaugural ceremonies on Sunday. Consequently until a few minutes after twelve o'clock noon, Monday, March 5, 1917 when the oath of office is taken by the president, Mr. Lansing will be the president of the United States. Cabinet officers' terms are by appointment and they remain in office until a successor is appointed or they resign. If Robert Lansing is Secretary of State on March 4, 1917, as the highest official in actual office in this country, for those two days, he will necessarily be the Chief Executive.

Aftermath of Storm.
The blizzard which has been an endless source of inspiration for cartoonists and columnists. I do not want to lay myself open to an evident lack of originality. One or two days in connection with the storm, however, seem to have escaped general comment. Public utilities were embarrassed not because of the fury of the storm so much as by the fact that snow fighting machinery had been largely dismantled for the summer. The disposal of the snow in the city was a problem, also, it was handled as promptly as could be expected in the dead of winter. It would have been cared for much more expeditiously. The thunder and lightning that accompanied this wind swept snow storm were appropriate manifestations of the misfit nature of the whole thing. Fulton Makes Showing.
Fred Fulton, aspirant to the heavy weight boxing championship, again demonstrated the fact that he has a much better kick of a mule. First man Flynn, his latest opponent, will pursue some spots for some time to come. But the recent match has not proved Fulton any more than have preceding fights. No time was lost that he can hit harder than most men, but no one knows whether he can stand the punishment of a long grueling fight. He has never had an opportunity of disposing of his opponents in 30 minutes by what sport writers call the "K. O. route."

Evansville News
Evansville, March 25.—Mrs. Marie Hess died yesterday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Asmus, after several years' illness. She was born in Germany March 27, 1838, and came to this country with her husband and children, settling near Decatur. Her husband, Fred Hess, has been dead seven years, the only relatives left to mourn her death being her daughter, Mrs. Frank Asmus, one sister, Mrs. Lentz of Broadhead, and three brothers, Fred, Malcoe, and Monroe and Christy, and will Malcoe of near Albion. For the past thirty-five years her home has been in or near Evansville, where she spent much time for the Evangelical church, with which she has been affiliated since childhood and where her loss will be deeply felt. Funeral services will be held Sunday at 12:30 at the Frank Asmus home, and 2:00 o'clock at the Evangelical church, west of the cemetery in the Evangelical cemetery.

The following surprised Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Shaw in their new home in the Bager flats Thursday evening, giving them the warning of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Bagly, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Burr Tolles and son Donald, Miss Alice Colony, Mr. and Mrs. E. Van Patten, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bennis, Mrs. Hattie Boyd, Mrs. Hawley, Miss Ludington. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw were presented with a handsome solid silver spoon in remembrance of the event. The evening was provided and all enjoyed a pleasant evening.

Rev. J. M. Lively of Tusco, La., will preach at the Baptist church services both morning and evening and also at the Union Baptist church in the afternoon.

John Gory of Magnolia transacted business in this city yesterday.

R. M. Richmond spent Thursday in Madison.

Mrs. Jack Farnsworth and daughter of Brooklyn were the guests of local friends Thursday.

Homer Sholtz was a Janesville business visitor yesterday.

Chas. Moore, a quarry road commissioner, of Janesville transacted business in this city yesterday.

G. L. McCoy of Magnolia was an Evansville visitor yesterday.

E. H. Mathews of Toledo transacted business in this city yesterday.

Miss Thora Brunzell was a Janesville visitor yesterday.

August Krause of Attica was a business visitor in this city yesterday.

Ernest La Fave and brother Lawrence of Delavan arrived in the city last evening to attend the funeral of their father, which will be held from the Methodist church Sunday afternoon at two o'clock.

The social center gathering held at Fulton last evening proved to be a very interesting meeting. The school children gave a program and F. J. Lowth addressed the meeting on the consolidation of the rural schools, and his talk was illustrated with stereoscopic views. A. A. Markham of Janesville was also present and had charge of the views.

The banquet given under the auspices of the Brotherhood Bible class of the Methodist church last evening was a success in every way. The gathering was addressed by Rev. Brigham of Janesville, who have an interesting talk on the man's part in the Sunday school work. He brought out many instructive and interesting points in the Sunday school work.

James Keller transacted business at the Bower City yesterday.

W. T. Pomeroy was a business caller at Stoughton.

Messrs. Vern Grip and Oscar Johnson left for Sheboygan, where they have accepted a position in a chair factory.

Miss Myrtle Patterson, who teaches in the local schools, was an over Sunday visitor at the home of her parents at Plattville.

Miss Hazel Conn called on Madison Friday yesterday.

Mrs. Earle Langworthy of Milwaukee is a guest of Edgerton relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pease, Jr., are rejoicing over the arrival of a bright baby boy to gladness.

Mrs. G. S. Grubb of Mauston arrived in the city last evening for a visit at the home of her son, P. N. Grubb.

Frank Gibson of Flagler, Colorado, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Clark. Mr. Gibson is located at the same town in Colorado at which Frank Spencer is now located.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lawton of Albion, who have been visiting with friends and relatives in Washington and Oregon the past four months, returned Friday morning.

Miss Inez McCormick, who has been employed at the home of Roy Lewis for some time, has returned to her home at Gay Mills Friday.

Don Macinnis of Stoughton was a business caller in this city yesterday.

Mrs. L. J. Dickenson and Mrs. Louise Pearce were Janesville callers yesterday.

Claire, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hal Martin, fell last night, striking her face and severely cutting lip and gums and bruising face, badly.

Decision of England on Volunteer Training Corps Stops Trouble

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, March 25.—The decision of the government to recognize the "Volunteer Training Corps" as part of the military forces of the country solves a difficulty that for many months threatened to wreck the whole volunteer home defense movement.

The trouble arose in connection with Ireland, and shows now the old home rule quarrel persists even in the face of war. The Irish Nationalists—home rulers—saw that a bill giving official recognition to the volunteer forces would strengthen the power of the Nationalist volunteer force, which is a considerable body of men, all united with the intention of backing the demand for home rule.

To prevent this strengthening of the home rule element the government prepared a bill at the last session which was carefully worded so as not to apply to Ireland at all, but the Nationalist saw through the ruse promptly and threatened to put up a big fight. The government then the Irish Nationalists, and proposed to include both the Nationalist and the Ulster anti-home rule militia. But the Ulsterites rose in force against this compromise, pointing out that Ulster volunteers had forsaken the front, whereas there were still large numbers of men of military age in the Nationalist militia.

So while Ireland was quarreling, the bill was allowed to die and accordingly no official recognition could be given to the home defense organizations through act of parliament.

The ministry now got around this by merely recognizing the volunteers under an old military act of 1863, whereby Ireland is excluded, inasmuch as the act in question never applied to Ireland.

Madison, Wis., March 25.—The forestry department of the state is preparing to send out thousands of carmen to summer resorts, campers, fishers and hunters, warning them of the danger of forest fires. The old plan of quoting the law will be abandoned and instead the department will ask, in terse terms, co-operation in preventing fires.

This plan of action was decided upon at a recent meeting of all men connected with the Wisconsin forestry force held at forestry headquarters at Trout Lake.

Wisconsin has had no destructive fires since 1911 in its great tracts of forest, said Commissioner F. B. Moody, "but when we feel most secure is the time to take effective defensive measures."

From April until the fall of snow in the autumn the strictest watch must be maintained. Every smoldering spark must be extinguished. It is the plan of the forestry department to have warnings posted so that every man who goes into the woods will have them constantly in front of him.

ice, Louise Beaudet, Harold Hubert, Belle Bruce, Norma Talmage and Lucille Hamill.

Evansville News

AGED COUNTY RESIDENT IS CALLED TO WORLD BEYOND

Evansville, March 25.—Mrs. Marie Hess died yesterday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Asmus, after several years' illness. She was born in Germany March 27, 1838, and came to this country with her husband and children, settling near Decatur. Her husband, Fred Hess, has been dead seven years, the only relatives left to mourn her death being her daughter, Mrs. Frank Asmus, one sister, Mrs. Lentz of Broadhead, and three brothers, Fred, Malcoe, and Monroe and Christy, and will Malcoe of near Albion. For the past thirty-five years her home has been in or near Evansville, where she spent much time for the Evangelical church, with which she has been affiliated since childhood and where her loss will be deeply felt. Funeral services will be held Sunday at 12:30 at the Frank Asmus home, and 2:00 o'clock at the Evangelical church, west of the cemetery in the Evangelical cemetery.

The following surprised Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Shaw in their new home in the Bager flats Thursday evening, giving them the warning of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Bagly, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Burr Tolles and son Donald, Miss Alice Colony, Mr. and Mrs. E. Van Patten, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bennis, Mrs. Hattie Boyd, Mrs. Hawley, Miss Ludington. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw were presented with a handsome solid silver spoon in remembrance of the event. The evening was provided and all enjoyed a pleasant evening.

Rev. J. M. Lively of Tusco, La., will preach at the Baptist church services both morning and evening and also at the Union Baptist church in the afternoon.

John Gory of Magnolia transacted business in this city yesterday.

R. M. Richmond spent Thursday in Madison.

Mrs. Jack Farnsworth and daughter of Brooklyn were the guests of local friends Thursday.

Homer Sholtz was a Janesville business visitor yesterday.

Chas. Moore, a quarry road commissioner, of Janesville transacted business in this city yesterday.

G. L. McCoy of Magnolia was an Evansville visitor yesterday.

E. H. Mathews of Toledo transacted business in this city yesterday.

Miss Thora Brunzell was a Janesville visitor yesterday.

August Krause of Attica was a business visitor in this city yesterday.

Ernest La Fave and brother Lawrence of Delavan arrived in the city last evening to attend the funeral of their father, which will be held from the Methodist church Sunday afternoon at two o'clock.

The social center gathering held at Fulton last evening proved to be a very interesting meeting. The school children gave a program and F. J. Lowth addressed the meeting on the consolidation of the rural schools, and his talk was illustrated with stereoscopic views. A. A. Markham of Janesville was also present and had charge of the views.

The banquet given under the auspices of the Brotherhood Bible class of the Methodist church last evening was a success in every way. The gathering was addressed by Rev. Brigham of Janesville, who have an interesting talk on the man's part in the Sunday school work. He brought out many instructive and interesting points in the Sunday school work.

James Keller transacted business at the Bower City yesterday.

W. T. Pomeroy was a business caller at Stoughton.

Messrs. Vern Grip and Oscar Johnson left for Sheboygan, where they have accepted a position in a chair factory.

Miss Myrtle Patterson, who teaches in the local schools, was an over Sunday visitor at the home of her parents at Plattville.

Miss Hazel Conn called on Madison Friday yesterday.

Mrs. Earle Langworthy of Milwaukee is a guest of Edgerton relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pease, Jr., are rejoicing over the arrival of a bright baby boy to gladness.

Mrs. G. S. Grubb of Mauston arrived in the city last evening for a visit at the home of her son, P. N. Grubb.

Frank Gibson of Flagler, Colorado, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Clark. Mr. Gibson is located at the same town in Colorado at which Frank Spencer is now located.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lawton of Albion, who have been visiting with friends and relatives in Washington and Oregon the past four months, returned Friday morning.

Miss Inez McCormick, who has been employed at the home of Roy Lewis for some time, has returned to her home at Gay Mills Friday.

Don Macinnis of Stoughton was a business caller in this city yesterday.

Mrs. L. J. Dickenson and Mrs. Louise Pearce were Janesville callers yesterday.

Claire, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hal Martin, fell last night, striking her face and severely cutting lip and gums and bruising face, badly.

Decision of England on Volunteer Training Corps Stops Trouble

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, March 25.—The decision of the government to recognize the "Volunteer Training Corps" as part of the military forces of the country solves a difficulty that for many months threatened to wreck the whole volunteer home defense movement.

The trouble arose in connection with Ireland, and shows now the old home rule quarrel persists even in the face of war. The Irish Nationalists—home rulers—saw that a bill giving official recognition to the volunteer forces would strengthen the power of the Nationalist volunteer force, which is a considerable body of men, all united with the intention of backing the demand for home rule.

To prevent this strengthening of the home rule element the government prepared a bill at the last session which was carefully worded so as not to apply to Ireland at all, but the Nationalist saw through the ruse promptly and threatened to put up a big fight. The government then the Irish Nationalists, and proposed to include both the Nationalist and the Ulster anti-home rule militia. But the Ulsterites rose in force against this compromise, pointing out that Ulster volunteers had forsaken the front, whereas there were still large numbers of men of military age in the Nationalist militia.

So while Ireland was quarreling, the bill was allowed to die and accordingly no official recognition could be given to the home defense organizations through act of parliament.

The ministry now got around this by merely recognizing the volunteers under an old military act of 1863, whereby Ireland is excluded, inasmuch as the act in question never applied to Ireland.

Madison, Wis., March 25.—The forestry department of the state is preparing to send out thousands of carmen to summer resorts, campers, fishers and hunters, warning them of the danger of forest fires. The old plan of quoting the law will be abandoned and instead the department will ask, in terse terms, co-operation in preventing fires.

This plan of action was decided upon at a recent meeting of all men connected with the Wisconsin forestry force held at forestry headquarters at Trout Lake.

Wisconsin has had no destructive fires since 1911 in its great tracts of forest, said Commissioner F. B. Moody, "but when we feel most secure is the time to take effective defensive measures."

From April until the fall of snow in the autumn the strictest watch must be maintained. Every smoldering spark must be extinguished. It is the plan of the forestry department to have warnings posted so that every man who goes into the woods will have them constantly in front of him.

and Oregon the past four months, returned Friday morning.

Miss Inez McCormick, who has been employed at the home of Roy Lewis for some time, has returned to her home at Gay Mills Friday.

Don Macinnis of Stoughton was a business caller in this city yesterday.

Mrs. L. J. Dickenson and Mrs. Louise Pearce were Janesville callers yesterday.

Claire, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hal Martin, fell last night, striking her face and severely cutting lip and gums and bruising face, badly.

Decision of England on Volunteer Training Corps Stops Trouble

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, March 25.—The decision of the government to recognize the "Volunteer Training Corps" as part of the military forces of the country solves a difficulty that for many months threatened to wreck the whole volunteer home defense movement.

The trouble arose in connection with Ireland, and shows now the old home rule quarrel persists even in the face of war. The Irish Nationalists—home rulers—saw that a bill giving official recognition to the volunteer forces would strengthen the power of the Nationalist volunteer force, which is a considerable body of men, all united with the intention of backing the demand for home rule.

To prevent this strengthening of the home rule element the government prepared a bill at the last session which was carefully worded so as not to apply to Ireland at all, but the Nationalist saw through the ruse promptly and threatened to put up a big fight. The government then the Irish Nationalists, and proposed to include both the Nationalist and the Ulster anti-home rule militia. But the Ulsterites rose in force against this compromise, pointing out that Ulster volunteers had forsaken the front, whereas there were still large numbers of men of military age in the Nationalist militia.

So while Ireland was quarreling, the bill was allowed to die and accordingly no official recognition could be given to the home defense organizations through act of parliament.

The ministry now got around this by merely recognizing the volunteers under an old military act of 1863, whereby Ireland is excluded, inasmuch as the act in question never applied to Ireland.

Madison, Wis., March 25.—The forestry department of the state is preparing to send out thousands of carmen to summer resorts, campers, fishers and hunters, warning them of the danger of forest fires. The old plan of quoting the law will be abandoned and instead the department will ask, in terse terms, co-operation in preventing fires.

This plan of action was decided upon at a recent meeting of all men connected with the Wisconsin forestry force held at forestry headquarters at Trout Lake.

Wisconsin has had no destructive fires since 1911 in its great tracts of forest, said Commissioner F. B. Moody, "but when we feel most secure is the time to take effective defensive measures."

From April until the fall of snow in the autumn the strictest watch must be maintained. Every smoldering spark must be extinguished. It is the plan of the forestry department to have warnings posted so that every man who goes into the woods will have them constantly in front of him.

STATE FORESTRY BOARD TO SOUND WARNING AGAINST CAMP FIRES

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]
Madison, Wis., March 25.—The forestry department of the state is preparing to send out thousands of carmen to summer resorts, campers, fishers and hunters, warning them of the danger of forest fires. The old plan of quoting the law will be abandoned and instead the department will ask, in terse terms, co-operation in preventing fires.

This plan of action was decided upon at a recent meeting of all men connected with the Wisconsin forestry force held at forestry headquarters at Trout Lake.

Wisconsin has had no destructive fires since 1911 in its great tracts of forest, said Commissioner F. B. Moody, "but when we feel most secure is the time to take effective defensive measures."

From April until the fall of snow in the autumn the strictest watch must be maintained. Every smoldering spark must be extinguished. It is the plan of the forestry department to have warnings posted so that every man who goes into the woods will have them constantly in front of him.

STATE FORESTRY BOARD TO SOUND WARNING AGAINST CAMP FIRES

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]
Madison, Wis., March 25.—The forestry department of the state is preparing to send out thousands of carmen to summer resorts, campers, fishers and hunters, warning them of the danger of forest fires. The old plan of quoting the law will be abandoned and instead the department will ask, in terse terms, co-operation in preventing fires.

This plan of action was decided upon at a recent meeting of all men connected with the Wisconsin forestry force held at forestry headquarters at Trout Lake.

Wisconsin has had no destructive fires since 1911 in its great tracts of forest, said Commissioner F. B. Moody, "but when we feel most secure is the time to take effective defensive measures."

From April until the fall of snow in the autumn the strictest watch must be maintained. Every smoldering spark must be extinguished. It is the plan of the forestry department to have warnings posted so that every man who goes into the woods will have them constantly in front of him.

STATE FORESTRY BOARD TO SOUND WARNING AGAINST CAMP FIRES

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]
Madison, Wis., March 25.—The forestry department of the state is preparing to send out thousands of carmen to summer resorts, campers, fishers and hunters, warning them of the danger of forest fires. The old plan of quoting the law will be abandoned and instead the department will ask, in terse terms, co-operation in preventing fires.

This plan of action was decided upon at a recent meeting of all men connected with the Wisconsin forestry force held at forestry headquarters at Trout Lake.

Wisconsin has had no destructive fires since 1911 in its great tracts of forest, said Commissioner F. B. Moody, "but when we feel most secure is the time to take effective defensive measures."

From April until the fall of snow in the autumn the strictest watch must be maintained. Every smoldering spark must be extinguished. It is the plan of the forestry department to have warnings posted so that every man who goes into the woods will have them constantly in front of him.

STATE FORESTRY BOARD TO SOUND WARNING AGAINST CAMP FIRES

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]
Madison, Wis., March 25.—The forestry department of the state is preparing to send out thousands of carmen to summer resorts, campers, fishers and hunters, warning them of the danger of forest fires. The old plan of quoting the law will be abandoned and instead the department will ask, in terse terms, co-operation in preventing fires.

This plan of action was decided upon at a recent meeting of all men connected with the Wisconsin forestry force held at forestry headquarters at Trout Lake.

Wisconsin has had no destructive fires since 1911 in its great tracts of forest, said Commissioner F. B. Moody, "but when we feel most secure is the time to take effective defensive measures."

From April until the fall of snow in the autumn the strictest watch must be maintained. Every smoldering spark must be extinguished. It is the plan of the forestry department to have warnings posted so that every man who goes into the woods will have them constantly in front of him.

STATE FORESTRY BOARD TO SOUND WARNING AGAINST CAMP FIRES

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]
Madison, Wis., March 25.—The forestry department of the state is preparing to send out thousands of carmen to summer resorts, campers, fishers and hunters, warning them of the danger of forest fires. The old plan of quoting the law will be abandoned and instead the department will ask, in terse terms, co-operation in preventing fires.

This plan of action was decided upon at a recent meeting of all men connected with the Wisconsin forestry force held at forestry headquarters at Trout Lake.

Wisconsin has had no destructive fires since 1911 in its great tracts of forest, said Commissioner F. B. Moody, "but when we feel most secure is the time to take effective defensive measures."

From April until the fall of snow in the autumn the strictest watch must be maintained. Every smoldering spark must be extinguished. It is the plan of the forestry department to have warnings posted so that every man who goes into the woods will have them constantly in front of him.

STATE FORESTRY BOARD TO SOUND WARNING AGAINST CAMP FIRES

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]
Madison, Wis., March 25.—The forestry department of the state is preparing to send out thousands of carmen to summer resorts, campers, fishers and hunters, warning them of the danger of forest fires. The old plan of quoting the law will be abandoned and instead the department will ask, in terse terms, co-operation in preventing fires.

This plan of action was decided upon at a recent meeting of all men connected with the Wisconsin forestry force held at forestry headquarters at Trout Lake.

Wisconsin has had no destructive fires since 1911 in its great tracts of forest, said Commissioner F. B. Moody, "but when we feel most secure is the time to take effective defensive measures."

From April until the fall of snow in the autumn the strictest watch must be maintained. Every smoldering spark must be extinguished. It is the plan of the forestry department to have warnings posted so that every man who goes into the woods will have them constantly in front of him.

STATE FORESTRY BOARD TO SOUND WARNING AGAINST CAMP FIRES

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]
Madison, Wis., March 25.—The forestry department of the state is preparing to send out thousands of carmen to summer resorts, campers, fishers and hunters, warning them of the danger of forest fires. The old plan of quoting the law will be abandoned and instead the department will ask, in terse terms, co-operation in preventing fires.

This plan of action was decided upon at a recent meeting of all men connected with the Wisconsin forestry force held at forestry headquarters at Trout Lake.

Wisconsin has had no destructive fires since 1911 in its great tracts of forest, said Commissioner F. B. Moody, "but when we feel most secure is the time to take effective defensive measures."

From April until the fall of snow in the autumn the strictest watch must be maintained. Every smoldering spark must be extinguished. It is the plan of the forestry department to have warnings posted so that every man who goes into the woods will have them constantly in front of him.

Ashcraft's Annual March Furniture Sale

Rapidly Drawing To a Close.

Now's your golden opportunity!

Homes of Character

Are You Prepared for Your Spring Sewing?

Every home needs a Sewing Machine

Come into our store and see the

Free Sewing Machine

which has been advertised in this paper every Saturday night.

Sold on easy terms and we allow you a liberal amount on your old machine.

FRANK D. KIMBALL

FLATS! FLATS!

Yes, Janesville has flats and lots of them and still there is a great need for small apartments that can be rented for a low price and still be convenient and sanitary. There is also room for one or more fine apartment buildings of the better class, better than anything in town. We have made a study of apartments. If you have an idea of building either see

HILTON & SADLER
"THE ARCHITECTS"

See J. E. Kennedy For Building Lots

Your choice of some of the best building lots in Janesville at prices ranging from $100 to $1700 each. See Kennedy if you want to have money on your lot.

J. E. KENNEDY

9 W. Milwaukee St., Sutherland Bldg. Both phones.

THE VITAL FACTOR

The elementary virtue of Honesty, is more vital to common business than some people would have us believe. Honesty is not merely the best policy, it is absolutely the only policy that will pay in the long run. Honest material, honest prices, honest methods are the BED ROCK of every business that prospers. Don't be misled by the rosy promise of a cheap job when you come to build your home, as it will invariably cost you dollars in the end. It is always better to be SAFE than SORRY.

E. E. VAN POOL

17 NORTH RIVER ST. BOTH PHONES

Electric Fixtures and Wiring

Let Albrecht do your work and then you will know it's done right at a minimum cost.

F. A. ALBRECHT

"A Little Shop Offering Intelligent Service."

Electric Wiring and Fixtures. 58 S. Main St. Both Phones

Gilt Edge FURNACES

Are Better Furnaces

Ask anyone who is now heating their home with a Gilt Edge and learn how thoroughly the house is warmed, how even the temperature is, how easily the furnace is regulated and how saving it is on coal.

FRANK DOUGLAS

15-17 South River Street.

THE PLUMBING PROBLEM

Is easily solved by letting your contract to McVicar Brothers. We have for years solved the plumbing problems for home builders in Janesville and have never had a complaint. Expert advice and expert work for the same price that others charge. Let us tell you about our modern plumbing service.

McVICAR BROTHERS

31 So. Main Street. Janesville, Wis. Both Phones.

PRIDE and satisfaction in your home depend largely on the woodwork, your permanent, unchangeable furniture.

And this woodwork can be bought as you would buy furniture—a piano, for instance.

1866 CURTIS WOODWORK

"The Permanent Furniture for Your Home"

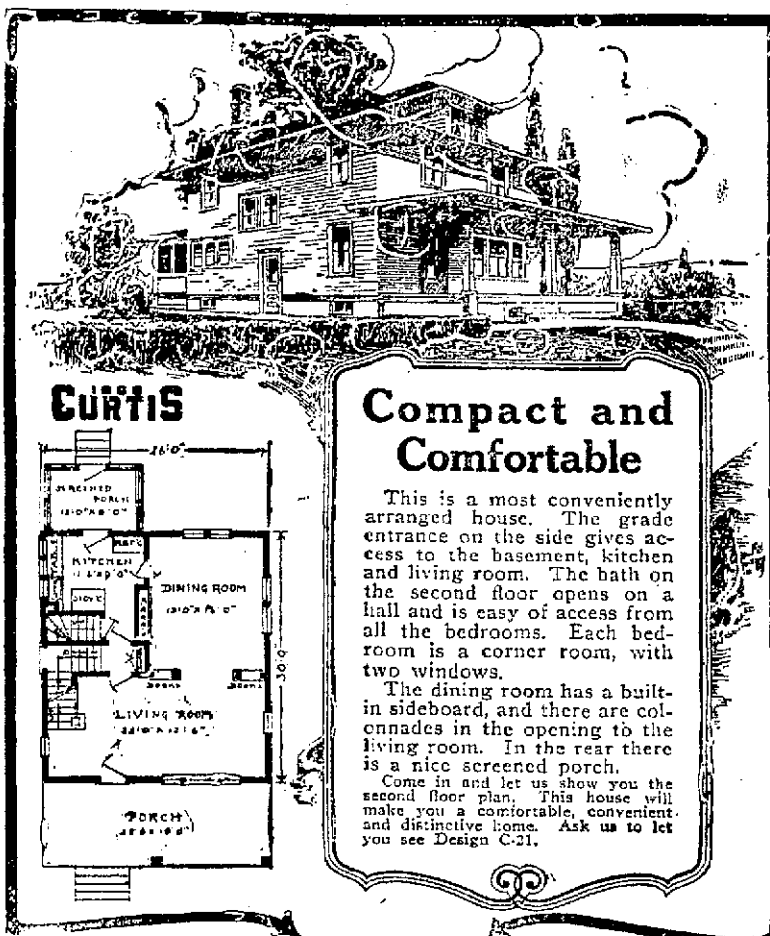

has gone into better built homes for fifty years. It is trademarked for your guidance.

If you plan to build or make alterations, call on us for details about Curtis Woodwork. We have free for you three "Home-Books": "Better Built Homes," $800 to $3,000; "Homelike Homes," $3,000 up, and "Attractive Bungalows." The big Curtis Catalog also contains a thousand suggestions.

FIFIELD LUMBER COMPANY

JANESVILLE, WIS.

BOTH PHONES 109.

Questions regarding Home-Building will be answered free by addressing "Home of Character" Department, The Gazette.

CLIP THIS PAGE AND SAVE FOR REFERENCE

Heat Water With Gas

A Gas Tank Water Heater, attached to your water boiler, will furnish plenty of hot water for all household uses without work and without overheating the house. It is the least expensive way in the long run as you heat the water only when you need it.

At our showroom or from representatives. Easy payments if desired.

New Gas Light Co. of Janesville

7 N. Main St.

Both Phones 112.

Free Electric Service

Lasting until May 1st, we are going to give FREE ELECTRIC CURRENT, for one month, on our special wiring offers. We have an offer for your house.

PROPOSITION NO. 1

6 CONNECTING ROOMS 2 LIGHT FIXTURES
1 PORCH LIGHT 2 RIMS AND BALLS
3 SWITCHES 4 DROP CORDS

OUR OFFER $26.50

$5.00 when you pay your first light bill, $2.00 each month until same is paid.

PROPOSITION NO. 2

4 CONNECTING ROOMS 1 RIM AND BALL
1 PORCH LIGHT 3 DROP CORDS
1 TWO LIGHT FIXTURE 2 SNAP SWITCHES

OUR OFFER $16.75

$3.00 when you pay your first light bill, $2.00 each month until same is paid.

This offer may be connected on our lines at a special flat rate for lighting of "95 cents" a month (without a meter)—cheaper than kerosene.

PROPOSITION NO. 3

4 CONNECTING ROOMS WIRED
1 TWO-LIGHT FIXTURE 3 DROP CORDS

OUR OFFER $13.00

Pay us $2.00 when you pay your first light bill and $1.50 a month thereafter until paid.

We Have a Special Offer For Your House
Call us and let us send a representative.

Janesville Contracting Co.,
Office With Janesville Electric Co.

Plumbing of the Highest Grade

We are never satisfied with our work unless it is perfect, in fact we will not leave a job until YOU are absolutely satisfied that it is as you would have it.

Our knowledge and suggestions will be a great help to you when you are ready to build.

GEORGE & CLEMONS

Plumbing, Gas and Steam Fitting.
407 West Milwaukee Street.

$475.00

The Conway Player-Piano

At last a player-piano which any home can afford—any home be proud of. Made in one of the factories controlled by the great Hallett & Davis Piano Co. of Boston. This factory has applied scientific manufacture to the special problem of producing this truly first-class player-piano at lowest possible cost. Result—this truly remarkable player-piano.

The case is simple, but the heart of the instrument—the player action and the piano action—represents all that you can possibly desire in a player.

The easy terms on which we sell this instrument will silence forever any thought that you cannot afford the instrument your whole family yearn for. Come in and hear how wonderfully you yourself can play this instrument.

Call today for catalog and full information about our easy-buying plan.

THE MUSIC SHOP

Opp. Court House Park.

1032 Blue.

WHY A BEAUTIFUL HOUSE WITHOUT BEAUTIFUL GROUNDS?

Many a home builder will have built a beautiful, substantial home and never give a thought to how the grounds around the house are going to look. And yet there's nothing more attractive than a beautiful home with well kept grounds. Our landscape department would be glad to give you some interesting information about landscape gardening.

JANESVILLE FLORAL CO.

50 South Main St. Edw. Amerpohl, Prop. Both phones.

Save One Half Your Coal Bill With An Underfeed

Throw out that old furnace that cost a fortune to run this year and be ready for next winter with the Williamson Underfeed, the furnace that will save one-half to two-thirds of your coal bill.

E. H. PELTON

213 East Milwaukee Street

Come In and See Our Book of Home Plans

This book contains highly interesting information for the prospective home builder.

And when you are ready to build we can supply all the materials at prices that are right.

Schaller & McKey Lumber Co.

Corner Milwaukee and Pleasant Sts.

Both Phones, 100.